THE RECORD

John B. Senter, candidate for Commissioner of Revenue on the People's Ticket, in a radio address last Thursday made one of the strongest indictments yet made of the situation faced in Princess Anne County today—the lax law enforcement, the ruthlessness of the political machine in whose power we find ourselves.

Mr. Senter said: "By the Kellam Machine's own statement, there is no hope of any easing by them of the evil that enslave us, as this machine emphatically declares that it is running on its record."

"Such material progress as has been made at Virginia Beach and in Princess Anne County is not unlike whiskey and snake bite," Mr. Senter continued, "one gets well from snake bite, not because of the whiskey, but in spite of it. Our county, including Virginia Beach, has progressed materially not because of the Kellam machine, but in spite of it. Not as individuals therein, but as a civic unit, this county is legally and morally bankrupt."

That the machine's candidates have the effrontery to declare that they are running on their records is scarcely understandable when the record is such a feeble one. No, not even feeble. In many instances it is a black record.

Mr. Senter pointed to the sad record of convictions that resulted from the grand jury indictments. He showed where ownership of one of the more notorious of the "clubs" was transferred by deed from a member of the county police force two days after the grand jury convened to one Moe S. Higer, who was subsequently one of those indicted by the grand jury, but whose ownership of the club in question could not be established by the Commonwealth! He pointed to the fact that his opponent for the Commissioner of Revenue's office was then chief of the county police, and hence this and similar conditions to blacken the record that he now stands on!

The record of the Commonwealth's Attorney is not one that demonstrates more than his service to the upholding of some of the laws, for has he not written on that record a long series of failures to prosecute the law violators who have for so many years defied the gaming and whiskey laws in the county? What more outstanding example could there be than the prosecution of the indictments brought by the grand jury, when but one of the twenty-odd indictments for slot machine violations resulted in a verdict of guilty? What more outstanding than the fact that despite token arrests and token fines, the clubs continue to run in all their lawlessness, and even multiplied? Don't let the fact that they are reportedly closed now fool you. There is an election coming, you know.

The machine's candidates are running on the machine's record, and the machine's record is bad. When a candidate lends himself to the machine, he becomes a functioning part of the machine, and his record, by his very association, becomes blackened with the same brush that has brought Princess Anne County into disgrace in the minds of the right-thinking, God-fearing people of the State.

THE MATTER AND MATTER REPORT

Another instance of the county's middlemen ways with the affairs of the town has come to light recently when it was revealed that a municipal survey on the effects of annexation of the North Virginia Beach and other areas by the Town of Virginia Beach, reportedly paid for by a group of "independent taxpayers," was actually paid for by the county out of its general fund.

While one cannot blame the county for taking advantage of an opportunity thus cheaply to defeat annexation of its most profitable plum, one can and does object to the fact that there was no effort on the part of the so-called "independent" group to deny that they were responsible for the report. One objects to the sight of a group of men making motions to convince their fellow citizens that they are acting in the best interests of the town when they are actually lending themselves as tools to a county notorious for meddling in the affairs of that community.

One wonders who it was who actually authorized the second report (the town council had already authorized the firm of Myron Sturgeon to make a report). The Board of Supervisors has nothing in its minute books to indicate that it had anything to do with the authorization; the Commonwealth's Attorney says that he does not know. The only evidence is that the bill was approved by the county board, and paid for out of the general fund.

Do the other taxpayers wonder why a report made to nine men who call Virginia Beach home should be paid for by all of the other taxpayers in Princess Anne County?

One can only conclude that we have here evidence of another instance of the high-handed methods of the machine leadership. One can scarcely doubt that, just as so many of the decisions affecting Virginia Beach are made by him, we have here another example of the rule: "Sidney says..."

Office Price Stabilization Answers Some Questions

For the information of the readers of this paper, the Norfolk Office of Price Stabilization has released the following set of questions and answers, clarifying certain phases of the price stabilization program:

Q. Do hardware dealers have to list on a pricing chart all items carried in their stores?

A. No. They are required to list on pricing charts only those goods that may be classed as "household wares"—brooms, mops, cleaners, fireplace sets, and other items clearly set forth in Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or its amendments 1 and 2.

Q. When must these charts be filed with the Office of Price Stabilization?

A. The deadline for filing the foregoing pricing charts is May 30, 1951.

Q. Where should merchants in the Hampton Roads area file their charts?

A. Merchants in Tidewater Virginia should mail or bring their charts to the Norfolk OPS District Office, 1216 Granby Street, Norfolk, Virginia.

Q. Are all merchants coming under Ceiling Price Regulation required to file these charts with the Norfolk OPS Office by May 30, 1951?

A. Yes.

Q. What are some common omissions that have caused pricing charts to have to be returned to their senders?

A. They are numerous: proper signature missing; business name and address not given; list date not given, or given incorrectly; type of store not shown; sales bracket (volume of business) not shown; net costs of items not listed in order from lowest to highest. There are others, but these are the most frequent.

Q. After a merchant has filed his pricing chart, when must he begin pricing under the chart?

A. Not later than May 30, 1951.

Q. Must he expect an acknowledgment of receipt of his chart from the Office of Price Stabilization?

A. Yes. If his chart is not received, accepted, and acknowledged by the Office of Price Stabilization on or before June 30, 1951, the merchant may not legally continue to conduct his business in sale of those items controlled by Regulation 7 or its Amendments 1 and 2.

Q. Is it possible that a merchant may be governed by more than one Office of Price Stabilization regulation?

A. It is entirely possible. A merchant who conducts a general merchandise store might be controlled by Regulation 11, if he offers for sale sandwiches and other meat-type foods; Regulation 13, if he conducts a filling station in conjunction with his store; Regulation 7, if he handles dry goods and clothing; Regulation 15 or 16, if he sells groceries; and there are other possibilities.

Q. Do grocery stores file pricing charts?

A. Only if he offers for sale articles controlled by Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or its Amendments 1 and 2, principally "household wares." In order to comply with price stabilization regulations, they are required to post conspicuously in their stores a notice, informing the public of the class of their store (by annual volume of business)—No. 1, 2, 3, or 4.

Q. Is that all a grocer must do to comply with the regulations?

A. No. He must post on the package or container, on the shelf, or on the bin the price he is charging; it may be well under the ceiling price allowed, but never above it. In addition, he must fill out and send to his nearest District OPS Office a form called "Public Form No. 5."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Just "Can't Get Over" Easy's Fence

Few years ago, Easy Roberts took a lot of kidding when he planted that hedge of Multiflora roses — along his property line. Folks said he was getting pretty high-falutin'.

But today plenty of people who laughed at the idea slow down when they drive by Easy's place — just to look at these roses. Most beautiful sight you ever saw.

Practical, too! The hedge is a good four foot high now, and at least five foot thick—even a shout couldn't get through that prickly mass of shrubbery. Best of all, it cost less than ordinary fencing. (Might be well worth your while looking into.)

From where I sit, there's no sense in looking down on something just because it's different from what we like. For instance, some people think ice-cold lemonade's the best "cooler-offer" on a hot day. Some of us would rather have a glass of beer. The important thing is not to "hedge ourselves in" against other people's ideas and preferences.

Sorority Invited To Enter "Miss Virginia Contest"

Beta Sigma Phi Sets Up Scholarship Awards for Winners

The Alpha Chi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority has been invited to participate in the Miss Virginia Scholarship Contest by sponsoring a Virginia Beach or Princess Anne County girl. The contest is being sponsored by the Alpha Rho chapter of the sorority and will take place at the Center Theatre, Norfolk, August 11.

The winning contestant will go to the State finals where she will compete for the title Miss Virginia in the Atlantic City Miss America Scholarship Pageant the week of September 3 to 9. The State winner will receive a $300 scholarship as well as all expenses for herself and chaperone to the Miss America Contest, in addition to an all-expense week-long vacation for herself and chaperone in Miami, Florida.

The entrants must be between the age of 18 and 28 by September 1, 1951, unmarried, never divorced nor marriage annulled. She must be able to give a three-minute talent presentation for the judges either in music, dancing, art, or if she wishes a three-minute talk on what she will do with the scholarship money. She must be a high school graduate.

The entrants will be judged on charm, poise, personality, talent, and beauty of face and figure. The judging of the contestants, wearing swim suits, will be done privately in the presence of only the judges and the girls' mothers or chaperones.

Miss Lenora Slaughter, executive director of the Miss America Scholarship Pageant, visited the Tidewater area last week-end and said that in 1950, before any of the city and state winners throughout the country went to Atlantic City, $75,000 worth of scholarships had been awarded the girls in their own home towns and states, plus $26,000 awarded in Atlantic City, a total of $101,000 in scholarships last year.

Any girl who wishes more information may contact Miss Lillian Johnson, principal of the Robert Gatewood School, Norfolk, who is the Miss Virginia Scholarship chairman, or Alice Brewer White, WTAR, Norfolk, who is director of both the Miss Norfolk Scholarship Contest, to be held June 30 at the Nansemond Hotel, and the Miss Virginia Scholarship Contest.

North Carolina Tour Headed by Charles P. Gay

Charles P. Gay, hotelman of Virginia Beach, was named chairman of a group of officials of various Virginia attractions and facilities for the travel trade who this week toured North Carolina in a body in a good-will, business promotion tour, sponsored by the Virginia Travel Council. All sections of Virginia will be represented. George Summerson, of Bristol, president of the council, announced.

North Carolina sends more vacation and travel business to the Old Dominion today than any other state. Mr. Summerson pointed out, yet competition from all parts of the nation is attracting much North Carolina business.

The Virginians started their tour from Greensboro, on May 6, where they met with travel executives of the area that night. Other promotional meetings were scheduled for Asheville, Charlotte and Raleigh. The Virginia delegation spent four days visiting those who direct and accommodate travelers in the interest of reciprocal promotion of the attractions of the two states to encourage travel to the South throughout the year.

Others who made up the party included representatives of national wonders in the Shenandoah, of promotional agencies in the Piedmont, Southside and Southwest and of historic shrines and resorts in the Tidewater. The delegation was equipped with motion pictures of Virginia and 150,000 leaflets describing the States attractions.

Civilian Defense Director Urges
Citizens to Volunteer for Work

"Because there is little likelihood that your community will be subject to a direct enemy attack with atomic bombs or otherwise, there is no reason why you should not play a vital role in civilian defense," J. H. Wyse, State Coordinator, said this week.

"Persons living outside the heavily populated centers will bear a large part of the responsibility for carrying out mutual aid and mobile support phases of the civilian defense program, which are the keystones of the present effort," the State official stated.

Mr. Wyse said that volunteer firemen and policemen outside possible targets must play a large role in helping stricken citizens. In addition, he said every county in the Commonwealth now has ground observer stations in co-operation with the Air Force as a part of the Aircraft Warning System. These stations play a vital role in keeping a watch on air activity in order that populous centers may be warned in time of the approach of possible enemy craft and prepare for an attack.

The American Red Cross has assumed responsibility for training nurses' aides, and giving classes in home nursing and first aid. "It is the goal of the civilian defense organization eventually to have every citizen of the Commonwealth, fifteen years of age or older, trained in first aid," Mr. Wyse said. He also stressed the importance of nurses' aides and training in home nursing pointing out that in the event of a disaster or of an enemy attack there would likely be an extreme shortage of nurses to care for casualties.

Areas outside the possible targets also will be responsible for taking care of the casualties and evacuees from attacked areas until the damage can be repaired sufficiently for more normal operation.

Mr. Wyse urged Virginia citizens to get in touch with the director or coordinator in their localities and to volunteer for duty in whatever phase of the civilian defense program they are best qualified to serve and in which they are most interested.

The director and coordinator of civilian defense for Princess Anne County is Ivan D. Mapp, W. F. Patton is director and Reeves E. Johnson coordinator for Virginia Beach.

Older Rural Youth Plan Statewide Events in Summer

Two statewide events of interest to rural young men and women have been scheduled for this summer, W. E. Kure, Extension older youth specialist at V. F. I., announces.

Plans are being made for separate morning sessions for youth at the Institute of Rural Affairs at V. F. I., August 1-3. One of the speakers will be E. I. Aiken, Extension field agent for the eastern states, and now on leave of absence as executive director of the National 4-H Club Foundation of America, Inc., in Washington, D. C. Other speakers will be announced later, according to H. W. Ozlin, county agent.

A leadership training camp for young men and women between the ages of 15 and 30 years will be held at 4-H Camp Furrar, at Virginia Beach, August 16-18. The program will provide leadership training for officers and members of all types of rural young people's organizations. The camp can accommodate only 150, so advance registration is required. Registrations will be accepted in the order received. Young people in Princess Anne County who are interested in attending this camp should contact their county agent immediately, as the camp quota is rapidly being filled.

Armistead Appointed C&P Area Manager

Beverly A. Armistead has been appointed district commercial manager for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company in the Tidewater area, according to an announcement by A. W. Harrison, of Richmond, general commercial manager.

Mr. Armistead succeeds Harold D. Fungbomer, who has resigned to accept a position with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City, an associated company of the Bell System, which furnishes telephone service to communities throughout Maryland. He will take over his new duties June 1.

Building Activity Due for Big Drop, Says R. E. Taylor

Local building activity is due for a precipitous drop unless defense agencies in Washington modify their extreme and unnecessary controls affecting construction, according to R. E. Taylor, local building materials dealer and member of the Public Affairs Committee of the National Lumber Dealers' Association.

"Restrictions on housing and other building have come so fast, in the effort to conserve critical metals for the defense production program, that surplus of many building products are developing rapidly," Mr. Taylor said. "Yet these excess inventories cannot be used because of the emergency restrictions."

"The cutbacks in construction are only beginning to be felt, because work planned or started some months ago is not affected. While the controls are not as severe as in World War II, when the country went into all-out war production, they nevertheless are more restrictive than they need be under the circumstances. There's no unexplained reason, the building industry is being singled out for greater sacrifices than any other major industry."

"Under the latest defense regulations, many types of construction are forbidden outright, and many others, including stores, large factories, garages, office buildings, and warehouses, cannot be built unless a special permit is received from the National Production Authority."

"The cumbersome permit system in itself is a serious obstacle because many weeks often are required to get the necessary permission to build, even when the government has no objections. NPA already was six weeks behind in handling applications for permits before it expanded the list of buildings for which permits are required."

Korean Veterans Now Eligible for Hospital Benefits

Under the terms of Public Law 28 to extend certain benefits to veterans of the Korean conflict, signed by the President on May 11, persons who served in the armed forces on or after June 27, 1950 now may receive medical, hospital and domiciliary care and burial benefits on the same basis as veterans of World War II. Also such persons and their dependents now may be eligible for compensation and pension under the same conditions as those who served in World War II.

Navy Department Begins Executive Talent Program

The Navy Department has announced a nation-wide program to develop executive talent among its civilian employees.

The plan, which has been approved by the Civil Service Commission, makes available opportunities for administrative training to outstanding civilian employees in naval shipyards, air stations, ordnance stations, research laboratories, and other activities.

Previously, the program had been limited to Navy employees in the Washington, D. C., area. The Civil Service Commission said that this is the first nationwide civilian executive development program established by any Federal agency.

Under the new plan, typical training groups will include the following types of employees:

1. Young persons of high level learning ability and good personality who need administrative experience as a basis for future promotion to an executive position.

2. Administrative specialists, in grades GS-7 through GS-15, who are qualified in present specialties, and show good potential, but who need planned experience in other administrative fields to become competent executives or administrators.

3. Professional or scientific employees who need administrative experience to continue advancement in professions and sciences.

4. Wage board employees showing good potential who are in supervisory positions, or who have the necessary experience qualifications for such positions.

A letter to the Navy Department from Robert Rampeck, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, calls this program a "progressive step taken at a time when the selection and development of competent executive and administrative personnel will play so vital a part in our defense activities."

Navy Enlistment Restrictions Lifted Due to Needs

Current restrictions on the number of men that can be accepted for enlistment in the U. S. Navy are being lifted due to the increased quotas of men needed to man the large numbers of ships that are being "demobbed" and men can now be enlisted immediately due to larger quotas that have been given to the local recruiting station, Chief Petty Officer J. A. Forbes, recruiter-in charge of the local Navy Recruiting Station, reports.

Previously, with a restrictive quota system in effect, there was a four to six weeks waiting period between the time a man applied for enlistment and the date he could actually be enlisted. This, Chief Forbes explained, created a "waiting list" of men who wanted to enlist in the Navy but with the present larger quotas this so-called waiting list has been absorbed in the local area. Enlistments are now open under several recruit training programs to non-veterans 17 to 30 years of age inclusive, with not more than one dependent. These men will be transferred to a Naval Training Center for recruit training and subsequent assignment to further duty in the Navy. Chief Forbes pointed out that men with previous naval service will be re-enlisted if qualified and transferred directly to a receiving station for assignment without the necessity of going through recruit training.

Beef Shortages, Black Markets Possible Result of OPS Order

Shortages of beef, and black marketeering, probably will result from the recently announced Office of Price Stabilization orders concerning roll-backs on beef cattle prices, say Dr. J. L. Maxton, agricultural economist at V. F. I.

More immediately, Dr. Maxton sees the likelihood of "farmers trying to beat the gun" and selling their cattle before the orders go into effect.

This off-season marketing of cattle at inefficient weights will itself result in over-supply and somewhat lower prices immediately, the economist believes.

Another effect of the order might be that packers will buy at the lowered prices to replace their present inventories, and may suffer little loss. The main loss will be borne by the farmer who bought at pre-order prices.

Those farmers—and there are many in Virginia—who bought high-priced stockers and feeders to be finished as grass-fed cattle, are in a particularly bad position, Dr. Maxton says. He also believes many producers may choose to sell feeder calves they purchased as weaners before an expected roll-back is put on real prices.

(The order in brief: Beginning May 20 there will be a 10 per cent cut in the price slaughterers may pay farmers. There will be two additional cuts of 4½ per cent each, August 1 and October 1. This means that by October 1 the amount slaughterers may pay farmers will be 19 per cent less than prevailing prices. Ceilings are also set on beef for wholesalers and retailers.)

While beef prices are slated to go down, feed and other production costs continue to go up, so the farmer is caught in a bad squeeze, Dr. Maxton says.

The farmer will stay in profit because as long as it is profitable. When it ceases to become profitable he will turn to something else. This will be a question to be decided by each individual farmer.

Another factor for Virginia farmers to consider, Dr. Maxton says, is the emphasis which has been put on the pasture program. Now cattle may be summarily sold off thousands of acres of improved pastures, and farmers will no longer get the full benefit of the grass.

A "seller's strike" which has been mentioned in some parts of the country, would do little good, the economist believes. Farmers are not likely to go on feeding cattle after they have reached the best market weight.

He says the present order, "which doesn't seem to take into account many important factors" probably will be modified after officials have had time to think it over and see "the disastrous effects to the industry resulting from their untimely and unfair action."

Ferry Service at Three Crossings Advance June 1

The State Highway Department will step up its ferry service at three major river crossings June 1.

Highway officials said that a 40-minute schedule will replace the regular hourly schedule on the Rappahannock River runs from Jamestown to Scotland Wharf and Hopewell to Charles City County.

There will be no change in the rates, only an increased schedule to provide more frequent service, officials said. The beginning and ending periods of the ferry runs will not be changed.

The ferry lines normally operate on an extended or shuttle schedule at heavy traffic periods during events such as Garden Week, regattas, and the run of the Common Glory. The Jamestown boat, which ordinarily stops with the 9 p.m. run from Jamestown, will extend the 40-minute service until 11 p.m. during June, July, August and September.

Operating from Greys Point to White Stone are the large "Mary Ball" and the smaller auxiliary "Miss Washington." "Miss Peck," "Jonas" and "Miss Carolinas" provide service at Jamestown, while the "Hopewell Kraft" will continue to ply the James at Hopewell.

County Agent Ozlin Says Nitrate Shortage May Develop Following Disastrous Fire in Norfolk

"Can Be Serious" for County Farmers if More Unavailable

Norfolk's disastrous fire which destroyed 5,000 tons of newly unloaded nitrate of soda at the Chatham Nitrate Sales Corporation warehouse Monday might have very serious effects upon the farm economy of Princess Anne County.

According to H. W. Ozlin, county agent, the situation for the farmers can be serious if other supplies of the chemical used on corn and soybeans cannot be secured for the area at once. Mr. Ozlin said that the time it is used in the fields is within the next two weeks, and that if supplies cannot secure sufficient replacements in this area the result "can be serious."

The fire loss was estimated at $600,000, including property and nitrate. The SS Alamo, out of Valparaiso, Chile, which was discharging the nitrate cargo at Money Point when the fire broke out, escaped in the nick of time after frantic blasts of the whistle for aid.

Arturo Fernandes, director general of the shipping company that delivered the nitrate, said the vessel began discharging Saturday at noon, and had put ashore all but 300 tons of its 7,500-ton cargo of nitrate. More than 1,000 tons was loaded in box cars, which also were destroyed in the fire.

According to reports, the nitrate was being shipped away as it was unloaded. Some 5,000 tons, however, remained on the grounds. It was also reported that the 500 by 175-foot bagging house and storage shed no stock on hand when the ship arrived. The retail value of $3,000 tons of nitrate at $60 a ton would be $300,000, and constituted probably the largest item in the houses sustained.

The big storage house, with its bagging machines, belt conveyors, truck tractors, three diesel-powered scoop shovels, and power plant, of approximately $250,000 value, was completely destroyed. Other damage of at least $65,000 was sustained by the Norfolk and Portsmouth Belt Line Railroad, including some 25 box cars and 1,500 feet of track that must be rebuilt.

Contingent of 200 Seabees Report to NAAS, Oceana

Two hundred men of Mobile Construction Battalion No. 1 reported at Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Oceana, last Thursday to undergo a construction training program which will last about 60 days.

One hundred and thirty of the men reported here from Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, where they had been stationed for several months. The other 70 men came from the battalion's home station at Davisville, R. I.

Lt. (jg) W. T. Henry, CEC, USNR, is acting officer-in-charge of the Seabee detachment. The officer-in-charge of the unit, Lt. J. L. Cross, USN, is expected to arrive about June 15.

Beach Playground To Open Monday

The Virginia Beach Playground will open on Monday, June 11, with Mrs. Orlan Avett in charge.

The year-around playground, opens officially each summer for supervised play. Mrs. Avett said that tennis tournaments are planned for the various age groups. In addition, there are all types of playground equipment available, including shuffleboard and horseshoe. Special games and supervision for the youngest children are planned.

North Virginia Beach Has New Water Main

North Virginia Beach's drinking water supply is a thing of the past.

On Wednesday, the new 12-inch water main was cut in to the delight of residents of the area north of the town's limits all the way to Port Story. Little or no water in their water pipes was an old and sad tale to these people as soon as the summer tourist season got under way. The county and town moved to cure the situation with the construction of the new line from the town limits to 63rd Street where a booster pump is located.

The old 8-inch pipe line, long out-moded, was replaced with the larger pipe after the Army had notified the town that it would no longer be able to tie into the Army supply line in order to bolster the water supply.

A Worth Petty, town sanitation engineer, said that the pipes were flushed and chlorinated easily this week, samples of the water taken and analyzed, and that upon receiving the report from laboratory tests of the samples the line was cut in, all with a "minimum" of difficulty.

Meat Dealers to Post OPS Price Lists By June 18

Official OPS Lists To Be Available Before Time Limit

The Nation's more than 300,000 meat markets will have until June 18 to post official OPS retail selling price lists, according to the Norfolk District Office of Price Stabilization.

Because of delays in printing the official lists, the agency extended the posting requirement for two weeks from June 4. Retail selling prices for beef went into effect May 14 and posting of the official ceilings had been scheduled to begin within 30 days.

The extension does not apply to the ceiling price list for kosher beef sold at retail, however. The kosher lists will be available in ample quantity by June 11, the date set for their posting.

Although the retail beef posting time is being extended until June 18, retailers have been required since May 14 to display their prices for beef. These prices must not be more than the ceiling price. When the official lists are available, housewives will have a readily available check that these prices are not in excess of official OPS ceilings.

The 8 by 17-inch posters are now being prepared by the Government Printing Office. There will be 84 different charts—one for each of the three groups of retailers in the 18 retail zones into which the Nation is divided.

The posters, which carry the title, "Retail Ceiling Prices for Beef," are expected to be available in OPS District Office, 1216 Granby Street, well in advance of the June 18 deadline. That date has been selected to make sure that all adequate supply will be available in all OPS District Offices.

OPS Form 5 is the one on which a retailer notifies the OPS of the group into which his store falls—Group 1, 2, 3, or 4. Since most retailers of meat also handle groceries, most of them filed OPS Form 5 when the grocery ceiling price regulations, CPR 15 and CPR 16, were issued and have their classifications.

Meat retailers filing forms for the first time, and meat dealers in Groups 3-B and 4-B, a new classification for meat retailers who customarily sell at the lowest prices, have been required to notify their OPS District Office of their group classification by May 8. A new retailer must give notification within 15 days after starting in business.

On August 1 new ceiling price lists will be distributed and posted in retail stores. Again in October, when a further ceiling price reduction of about 4½ cents a pound is scheduled, a third set of ceiling price lists will be distributed and posted.

Retailers may display the price lists as soon as they get their copies from the District Offices. They may use either the official list which will be furnished free or one that is an exact copy of the official OPS list if the printing is legible and at least as large.

Sgt. Wertz, Oceana Graduate, Has Trouble With Korean Mud

An artillery gun chief had to call for a tank retriever to free his gun from 7 feet of soggy Korean mud when he fired over 350 rounds in a single night against Chinese communists.

Sgt. 1st Class John R. Wertz, Oceana High School graduate, and first president of the Community House Teen-Age Club, said his gun was positioned on a rock-like crust of earth when he first began firing earlier in the day.

"However," he said, "the ground thawed during the late afternoon and every time I fired a round, the gun's trails would plunge several inches farther into the soft ground."

Sgt. Wertz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wertz, and a section chief in Battery A, 1st

Citizens' Petition Filed Asking for Second Precinct

Judge Floyd E. Kellam has set June 22 for a hearing of a citizens' petition asking that a second voting precinct be set up at Virginia Beach.

The citizens' petition went to the court some time ago based on provisions in the State Code that the circuit court judge may, at his discretion, create a new voting precinct.

The need for the second precinct was first brought to the attention of the public when the Town Council voted on two separate occasions to recommend to the Electoral Board that it be created. Attorney Roy Smith recently said, however, that the town's petition had not gone to the board in view of the fact that the corporate town has no word in the matter.

More than 2,200 voters are expected to participate in the August primary which means that about three persons per minute would have to cast their votes, granted there were no rush periods and the voters moved forward in their allotted 20 seconds through the entire voting process.

Garland Eaton Enters Politics as Candidate For J. P. from Pungo

Garland Eaton, 27-year-old proprietor of Eaton's Service Station at Pleasant Ridge, has announced that he will be a candidate for Justice of the Peace from the Pungo District.

Mr. Eaton said that there has been no one to fill the J. P.'s job in the Pungo section for several years, but that two candidates have announced for the post in the forthcoming primary.

This will be Mr. Eaton's first try for a public office. He will run as an independent, hoping for the support of his friends in the area. "I believe that it will be in the public interest to have a Justice of the Peace in our section, and furthermore feel that my place of business would offer a convenience to the public that could not be offered by a Justice of the Peace who has no established office or office hours," he said.

Mr. Eaton is a native of Princess Anne County and a 1941 graduate of Creeds High School. He served for two years in the Air Force as an aviation cadet. He is married and the father of a 2-year-old daughter.

Norfolk Junior League to Sponsor Cerebral Palsy Benefit Dance

Funds to Go Toward Cerebral Palsy Center in Norfolk

The Junior League of Norfolk is sponsoring a dance at the Cavalier Beach Club on the evening of Wednesday, June 13, to raise funds for the Cerebral Palsy Center in Norfolk, of which they are co-sponsors. Sidney Banks, president of the Cavalier Hotel Corporation, has donated the use of the popular Cabana Club along with Don Reed's orchestra to furnish music for the event.

Tickets may be purchased in advance at the Cavalier Beach Club box office. The price is $5 per couple, tax included.

The Junior League has pledged $3,400 to the Center for the coming year, and hopes to raise part of this sum at the dance. Co-sponsors of the Center with the Junior League are the Crippled Children's Society of Virginia and interested individuals and civic groups.

League spokesmen said: "Amazing as it may seem, cerebral palsy cripples more children than infantile paralysis, but up until recent years it was regarded as a hopeless affliction. Cerebral palsy is caused by an injury to the motor area of the brain which may occur before birth or as a result of a birth injury or a severe childhood illness such as encephalitis or meningitis. Many of its victims are unable to walk, talk, or even to hold up their heads; and in the past, because of their appearance, they were regarded as feeble-minded and hidden away as a disgrace. Thus it was discovered that many victims of the disease have normal mentality and can be taught the muscle patterns which will enable them to lead relatively normal lives."

The Cerebral Palsy Training Center in Norfolk opened November 14, 1950. This Center is manned by trained therapists who are working with the children and their parents, with the aim of making the children self-sufficient enough to attend school with children in their own age group. The Center is located in the James Madison School in Norfolk, and has among its patients children from all over the Tidewater area. Already one child is attending classes at the school.

State Commission On Beach Erosion Needed, He Contends

W. Russell Hatchett, candidate for State senator from the First District, said in a radio address last night that if elected he would offer a bill authorizing a minimum of half a million dollars to be used in advertising the State and that he would introduce legislation authorizing a Beach Erosion Commission appropriating funds necessary for the Commission's use in combatting beach erosion, not only locally but throughout the State where the problem exists.

"I believe," said Mr. Hatchett, "that the General Assembly can be shown that aside from the State's obligation from an investment point of view, that the record of other states in combatting erosion shows our state to be the most backward in the nation. It's unbelievable that such legislation has never been introduced. We must take the necessary steps in halting beach erosion."

As to advertising, Mr. Hatchett said: "We must advertise the advantages and invite industry into our State. Upon the completion of the Bugs' Island project, power will be available for heavy industry, and our climate is certainly conducive."

The State, he believed, would profit by the advertising campaign, and should make an effort to tell "our story to the tourists everywhere." "In other words," he declared, "we have everything that a tourist could ask for, proof of this is the fact that tourist travel has reached the proportions of second industry in Virginia's economy, and, my friends, I'm convinced that this is the biggest dollar received in Virginia from any source, due to the fact that our tourists make no demands for additional public expenditures to be used for public schools and other public services, etc."

Mr. Hatchett also touched on the schools and school programs in Virginia, and pledged to work to the end that they would be second to none in the nation. "Pay for teachers should include the assumption that the teacher will give ample time for extracurricular work. Pay should include the provision for further training, travel. . . . All this is important if the teacher is to cultivate a vital personality, so necessary to the education of our children."

A SECOND PRECINCT FOR VIRGINIA BEACH

According to the Code of Virginia, it is mandatory for a city to set up a voting precinct for each 1,000 qualified voters. The Code does not establish rules for towns or counties, but leaves it to the discretion of the judge of the circuit court to set up additional polling places, presumably with the rules affecting the city as a precedent.

A petition, signed by some 30 voters, has gone to the Judge of the Circuit Court of Princess Anne County, Floyd E. Kellam, pointing out the need for a second voting precinct for Virginia Beach, where there are some 2,300 qualified voters, and asking him to enter an order setting up such a second polling place. This petition was in the Judge's hands on or about May 22. Judge Kellam has set June 22 for the date of a hearing on the subject.

We regret that Judge Kellam did not act at once on the petition as it is his power to do. However, since he saw fit to set a date for a public hearing a month later, we can see little in the way of argument that could be brought against the proposal.

It is true that with the hearing date set so late, time will be of the essence, for the Code states the establishment of additional precincts must take place at least 30 days before an election. If Judge Kellam's opinion is favorable, as we believe it will be, this leaves but a minimum of time for the needed machinery to go into effect—a period of some 15 days. This, however, should be no deterrent, for if the precincts are set up on a geographical basis, the registrar, with the help of competent assistants, could in a matter of four or five days, locate the qualified voters in their respective precincts (which would probably be, say, all those north of 27th Street for one, all those south of that line for the second).

Overbalancing any and all arguments would be the fact that the single poll would undoubtedly mean the disenfranchisement of many voters. This column has already pointed out that the 780 minute voting day (from 6:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.) would be too short to allow the voters, of whom we estimate there are 2,300 in Virginia Beach, to cast their ballots.

Some have argued that the cost to the county (around $800) would be too high to set up the new set of books. Is there even a remote possibility that the Judge would take seriously such an argument which would set a cash value on the rights and freedom of American citizens to cast their votes? We do not believe so. To bring up such arguments negates the American way of thinking—that our most precious possession, along with our freedom, is our ballot.

We look forward to a favorable decision as a result of the June 22nd hearing.

EROSION SOLUTION?

A reader friend from Birmingham, Alabama, has sent us a clipping from the Birmingham News for Sunday, June 5, in which there is an account of how one state whipped a serious erosion problem, and a wide sand beach was built up. Because so many of our readers are interested in the problem, we reprint parts of the story below.

"For years now, the Gold Coast of Mississippi has had everything to lure tourists—everything except a beach. With the exception of 200 or two man-made beaches which accommodated only the guests of the larger hotels, there was no beach to speak of. Nothing but a seawall. And part of the seawall was damaged in the 1947 hurricane.

"The so-called beach was little more than a sore spot. The various Chambers of Commerce had to play up the year-around climate, the abundance of hotel accommodations, the historic spots such as the Jefferson Davis home and the Tullis Oak, and, of course, the splendid fishing.

"Many persons who came here for the first time were disappointed in finding there was no beach, no place to go swimming, no place to get the most out of the sun.

"But, before long it will be different. You can see the change day by day. Because with every sunset, 800 more feet of beach is being added. Working from both directions, the dredging is progressing about 400 feet a day each way.

"The sand at first isn't pretty. It is dirty and oily. Looks like the sand you'd find in a creek around Birmingham. But after the bulldozers level it off and the sun and water have worked on it a few days, it becomes almost snow white, just like sand you'd find at Daytona Beach, or at Alabama's Gulf Shores.

"The sand is dredged from a barge off shore and piped into place. It is a twin operation. First, the sand is dredged about 100 feet from the highway—U. S. Highway 90 which runs from Mobile to New Orleans. Then it is dredged through separate pipes to a spot about 250 from the road. When completed, the beach will be 300 feet wide.

"This new development has caused Walter Fountain, acting president of the Biloxi Chamber of Commerce and other chamber and civic leaders to predict that the new beach will bring millions of dollars in new revenue to Mississippi.

"The State and County—Harrison County—are sharing the expense of the project with the government. The government is paying one-third—$1,132,000. President Truman has classified it as a project which will contribute to national defense. U. S. Highway 90 serves Kessler Air Base near here.

"Government funds came from previously unallocated funds in rivers and harbor flood control.

"The project, to cost about $4,000,000, is about half completed. It is moving along at such a rapid pace that by the time the Summer vacation rush comes, Mississippi will offer a beach not to be excelled in many places in the country.

"The entire project has a time table of 150 days. Dredging of the sand, which, after all, is the main part of the project, is set up to be completed in 130 work days. Half this time has elapsed and at least half of the total of 1,628,000 cubic yards of sand to be dredged near Biloxi has been washed ashore."

I have lived in many towns in Virginia, and shopped and visited in others. I have never found more courtesy, or consideration, among the business personnel of any town than I have found at Virginia Beach.

The doctors in the drug stores are never too busy to be kind and helpful.

The girls at the checking counters at A&P always have a smile and friendly greeting, even though I know they must be very tired as day draws to a close. I can't mention all, but I have found that true in all the contacts I have had at Virginia Beach.

The other day I went in the Princess Anne Press office, seeking an article that was hard to find. Everyone in the office was interested in finding it for me. They thought they didn't have it—but located it after I left the office—and followed me down the street and gave it to me, free of cost.

Now I call that going "The Second Mile," and I was a perfect stranger—and they don't know my name to this day. We have only lived in Princess Anne County a few months, and go to Virginia Beach occasionally to shop. I find Princess Anne a good county—and Virginia Beach a good town.

I am sure things happen at Virginia Beach that many of us do not approve of—but there are

GI Bill Training Must Be Started Before July 25 for Most Veterans

Veterans of World War II were reminded by the Veterans Administration that July 25 is the deadline for most of them for starting GI Bill courses of education and training. The coming summer term will be the last during which most veterans will be permitted to enter or re-enter GI Bill training.

A veteran must be in training by the deadline if he wants to continue afterwards. VA will consider him in training, even though he has temporarily interrupted his course for other reasons beyond his control, such as re-entry into military service. Once he completes or discontinues his program of training after the cut-off date, he may not start another course. Also, he must meet these requirements:

He will be expected to pursue his training "continuously until completion, except for conditions which normally would cause interruption by any student."

He may change his educational objective "only while in training and then for reasons satisfactory to the Administrator."

The July 25 cut-off date applies to World War II veterans discharged before July 25, 1947. Veterans discharged after the 1947 date have four years from the date of discharge in which to begin GI Bill training. Most veterans in both groups, however, must finish training by July 25, 1956, wind-up of the program.

An exception has been made for those who enlisted or re-enlisted under the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act (between October 6, 1945, and October 5, 1946). Those veterans have four years from the end of their enlistment or re-enlistment period in which to start training, and nine years from that time in which to complete it.

Forestry Training Camp at Holiday Lake Starts July 30

The Portsmouth office of the Virginia Forest Service has announced that the period of July 30 through August 4 has been selected as the time to conduct the Forestry Training Camp at Holiday Lake for those boys 14 to 19 years of age who have been outstanding in their forestry work throughout this year. This camp has been administered by the Virginia Forest Service for the past several years and is intended to interest and instruct Virginia boys in sound forestry principles. It is sponsored by the Southern Pulwood Conservation Association and financed by the following Virginia industries: Camp Manufacturing Company, Chesapeake Corporation of Virginia, Continental Can Company, West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, Gladfelter Pulwood Company, Mead Corporation, and National Container Corporation.

A week's forestry training is given without charge to 100 eligible Virginia boys, who must be in good physical condition and of good moral character, must have demonstrated an interest in forestry and must be recommended by their vocational agriculture teacher, county agent, industrial forester or state district forester. These recommendations for applicants must be received by George W. Dean, State Forester, Box 1368, Charlottesville, Va., by June 10, 1961.

Included in the forestry training will be timber cruising and estimating, timber harvesting, fire control, game management, area surveying, tree planting, and tree identification. These classes will be taught by trained foresters. In addition, recreation and athletics will be directed by a qualified instructor and a Red Cross life-guard, and include swimming, softball, volley ball and horse shoe pitching.

Those boys who are interested and feel qualified are urged to contact their respective representatives immediately as the number applying for camp this year is expected to be unusually large.

Of 132 ships which set sail in the Spanish Armada in 1588 only 30 returned to Spain. They were destroyed by Drake's attacks and storms.

G. I. Educational Benefits to Expire; Veterans Get Chance

For many veterans of World War II, the opportunity to gain an education at Uncle Sam's expense will expire in July of this year. However, those who start their training before the expiration date will be able to complete it.

In order to give Tidewater veterans an opportunity to take advantage of this valuable privilege, the Norfolk Division of the College of William and Mary, V. P. I. is this summer offering be-stating classes in engineering, liberal arts, and pre-professional courses, and through its Technical Institute an assortment of trade classes including air conditioning, aircraft mechanics, radio, electronics and television, machine shop and drafting. While high school graduation is necessary for the college classes, the Technical Institute admits students on their ability to benefit from the courses.

Those interested are urged to visit the College and Technical Institute, or call Norfolk 45401 for information. Registration for summer classes will be held June 11 and 12, but veterans planning for educational benefits under the law to register should take steps at G. I. Hall.

This act, inaugurating the season's schedule of free circus attractions, will be shown for two performances daily, at 4 and 10 p.m., and is a free attraction.

Exchange cable relief from Virginia Beach to the U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station at Oceana and the Fleet Air Defense Training Center at Dux Neck, at a cost of $131,500, will be included in expenditures totaling $1,544,670 for the improvement and expansion of telephone facilities in the area served by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia.

More than a million dollars of the total approved was for the Norfolk area to care for the growing needs of both civilians and the military. $430,600 was allocated to northeast Norfolk for outside plant construction to provide exchange relief in that section. Subscriber cable relief for the Naval Amphibious Base will cost $269,100, while additional inter-toll dialing equipment for the Norfolk Butte Street office and Portsmouth will require $102,000. An attended telephone center for the convenience of servicemen was approved for the Convoy Escort Piers at a cost of about $9,400.

Abernathy Advocates Members Of School Boards Be on Elective Basis in Radio Talk Over WTAR

Charges the Present System of Appointing Archaic, Outmoded

Charging that the operation of the schools of Princess Anne County is three steps removed from the people, E. Morris Abernathy last night in a radio address asked that the school boards be put on an elective basis, answerable to the people.

"The Judge of our Circuit Court, who is appointed by the State Legislature, appoints what is known as a School Trustees Electoral Board, and this board appoints the school board," Mr. Abernathy said. "There is no answerable to the people for a failure or breakdown in our public school facilities."

"We charge that the present archaic and outmoded system of appointing those in charge of operating schools is largely responsible for the present inadequate and inefficient school system and for the lack of adequate planning for the future," Mr. Abernathy asserted.

He pointed to conditions in not only the white schools but the Negro schools of the county, declaring that "surely no one who is familiar with the circumstances could contend that we have an efficient system of free public schools in Princess Anne County" as is called for by the Constitution of the State.

He noted that in Bayside School the children are being sent to school in shifts; at Kemperville 140 children are being accommodated in a one-room building having a small partition in back, without adequate heating, lighting and toilet facilities. He voiced concern at the danger, inherent to the children attending Oceana School as well as the deterioration of efficiency of both student and teacher because of the proximity to the jet base at NASB, Oceana.

Mr. Abernathy contended that an elected school board would promote better schools, since they would be answerable to the people. Noting that he did not blame the present school board in the county for the inadequacies of the school system, he said that "their actions are likewise limited by and subservient to those by whom they have been appointed."

"This materialized only last Sunday when, after saying as usual the two masses, preaching and giving Benediction, I felt the pain greater than I could endure. "I had Dr. McGuire notified at his home on North Braddock St. and with the utmost graciousness he was waiting in the operating room to give me relief. I feel so much more comfortable now than then. Authentic 17th Century Kitchen On View at Thoroughgood Home

by Mrs. Forman T. McLean

The restored colonial kitchen of the Adam Thoroughgood House is open to public view on Saturday and Sunday afternoons between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m.

Cooking in a colonial fireplace is not unlike cooking out-of-doors.

Let us go to the Adam Thoroughgood kitchen and see what there is in the way of cooking utensils. Records show that our ancestors, the pioneers, had about as many gadgets to cook with as we do today. A Philadelphia store as early as 1645, or over 100 years ago, listed more than 350. There was a gadget for each process in cooking: one for stewing, one for braising, for roasting, broiling, boiling, toasting, frying, baking, browning, candying and drying.

The first thing to catch the eye at the side of the huge fireplace, with its spacious warming oven, is the waffle iron; not a large one like Grandma had which she could set on top of her iron cooking stove, but an individual one, the size of a single waffle with a two-foot handle, all made of iron from the early foundries in Virginia. With these two essentials at hand, have you the necessary ingredients to satisfy the hungry? Did you hoard a bag of flour? Have you any baking powder? If the chickens are so scared and they won't lay, do you have any powdered eggs? And do you know how to use the powder? How about powdered milk? Is the old well in working order? Or is there a supply of precious water in the five-gallon demijohn? Or perhaps you could make griddle-cakes on the 18-inch iron griddle which could rest over the open fire on its three-inch legs.

But let us forget the inner-man for a while and note the other quaint gadgets in the kitchen. There are whale-oil lamps, hand warmers, foot warmers and a bed warmer, a pepper tea service, rare china, a queen in the corner, and Interference with telephone service by such action shows a complete disregard for public welfare, health and safety.

"During bargaining discussions, the union has presented demands for a 10 per cent wage increase and numerous other changes in its contract concerning such matters as restricting the work of supervisory employees, selection of employees for promotion, and arbitration procedures. Acceptance of many of these demands would seriously interfere with the company's ability to manage the business in the best interests of the public.

The company has offered the union a substantial wage increase. The union, however, has refused this offer maintaining that even if the company met its full demand for a 10 per cent wage increase such an offer would not be acceptable unless an agreement satisfactory to the union was first reached on many of the other non-money issues.

"The company agrees that the employees represented by the union are entitled to wage increases in view of the higher wages rates now prevailing in the communities in which the company operates. The union, however, is not willing to agree to any settlement which does not include company acceptance of other union demands which would seriously interfere with our ability to provide good telephone service."

Three Hour Work Stoppage Causes Little Inconvenience

Interruption of service was at a minimum at the local telephone exchange during the brief work stoppage on Wednesday, according to W. W. Stroud, manager of the local Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company branch office.

Calls were handled by a skeleton crew, including himself, Mr. Stroud said, and the public was most cooperative and understanding. There was no interruption of local service, but there was some delay in answering the signals, he added. Long distance service was out for the duration of the stoppage. Normal service was resumed about 11 o'clock with the full complement of operators.

In the meantime, J. Rhodes Mitchell, vice president and general manager of the C. & P. of Virginia, issued the following statement to the press:

"Work stoppages were called by the union Monday in Roanoke, Norton, Fredericksburg and Pennington Gap; Tuesday in Warrenton, Leesburg, Fairfax, Vienna, Hampton, Newport News and Williamsburg; and on Wednesday in Norfolk, Portsmouth, Suffolk, Cape Charles, Virginia Beach and Onancock.

"Interference with telephone service by such action shows a complete disregard for public welfare, health and safety.

The company has offered the union a substantial wage increase. The union, however, has refused this offer maintaining that even if the company met its full demand for a 10 per cent wage increase such an offer would not be acceptable unless an agreement satisfactory to the union was first reached on many of the other non-money issues.

"The company agrees that the employees represented by the union are entitled to wage increases in view of the higher wages rates now prevailing in the communities in which the company operates. The union, however, is not willing to agree to any settlement which does not include company acceptance of other union demands which would seriously interfere with our ability to provide good telephone service."

THE ELECTORAL BOARD AT WORK

We believe that the gentlemen on the County Electoral Board and the Judges of Election whom they appoint should be like good old Caesar's wife—above reproach.

We find however that in Princess Anne County these gentlemen have continued to put themselves in the unenviable position of being open to criticism because they have not always avoided situations which could be interpreted wrongly.

We are wondering about the reported presence at the meeting at which judges and clerks for the polls are named of candidates for election. Does it seem exactly the thing for the Machine candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney to be sitting in on their deliberations? We are not saying that he was influencing them in their choices, but we do say that a man now in high office and seeking that high office once more should not lend himself to a position where he could be criticized. There are a lot of people, you know, who might think that he did so influence the Messrs. Woodhouse, James, and "Alton."

Their choice of judges of elections has long been open to question. During last Summer's councilmanic election at Virginia Beach, as an example, the candidates opposing the Machine-made L. L. Lumberton, petitioned the electoral board to select one of a list of special submitted to them to act as judges.

The petition went to them in the proper form and within the prescribed time limit. However, the Board did not see fit to grant the petition, even though the Board promised to do so, but later reported "They would not let us do it." The Virginia Election Laws specifically provides that in such an event "it shall be the duty of the electoral board to appoint one of such persons to serve as judge of election at such voting place for the term prescribed by law. . . . The members of any electoral board who shall willfully fail to comply with this requirement (the law continues) shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars. . . ."

Interesting, isn't it?

Furthermore, and again we speak of the Virginia Beach precinct for we are more familiar with it, one of the Judges, who has continued in office year after year, has rightly or wrongly been accused of having too intimate a knowledge of the workings of the underworld of illegal clubs and gambling joints, much too close a connection, according to these same accusations, to be a fair judge. This gentleman advertised to the world some years ago this connection by causing to be published a guest list of a party at which he was host—this same guest list containing the names of the notorious gentlemen of our own little half-baked underworld.

We protest that the Electoral Board should take these things into consideration, and not foist upon the public gentlemen of his reputation.

We would like to suggest to the Electoral Board that a good book to curl up with would be these same Virginia Election Laws—they are good reading. If they do not have a copy, the News will be most happy to loan them the copy we have, provided they promise to read the sections about the duties of their office.

REGISTER NOW IF YOU WOULD VOTE

Here is a message of great importance to all prospective voters: Paying your poll tax is not all you must do to qualify yourself to vote in the forthcoming elections. You must also register in your proper precinct.

The News has published on another page a list of all registrars in the county. If you have paid your poll tax, but have not registered, go to your registrar NOW and have him register you. You have only three weeks left for this important function.

It is your duty to vote.

THE ISSUES

Like all aspiring little papers, we have the greatest respect for our cousins, the big dailies. We read with envy and try to emulate their writings and manner of presentation. We admire them, and look up to them, and want to be as much like them as we can.

But we must take exception to the Virginian-Pilot's editorials in which they intimate that the issues have not been brought before the people in the current political campaign in Princess Anne County.

The People's Ticket has and is continuing to bring to the public the issues as they see them through a series of radio addresses over station WFAR. These Thursday night speeches have thus far been alternated between the candidates. They have explained and expanded upon the platform of the People's candidates; they have proposed constructive changes that should be brought about for the better interest of the people of Princess Anne County; they have attacked lawlessness and have pledged to uphold the laws, not only in the letter but also in the spirit; they have reviewed the school situation and proposed ways of bettering it; they have attacked the record of the incumbents and exposed conditions as they exist.

What more could these candidates do "to face the issues?"

It is true that the Machine candidates have continued to evade public pronouncements; have evaded public defense of their record—both of which would certainly throw more light on the situation for the common weal. To the best of our knowledge, their meetings have been by invitation only, not open to the public or the press. Their one attempt at any elucidation of their position comes on the reverse of one of their throwaway cards: "Your vote for the candidates on the reverse of this card will be a vote for good government, including efficient service in all departments and a favorable tax rate. These candidates have pledged themselves to work to this end."

We agree with our good friends in Norfolk that the Machine has not faced issues nor loaned itself to the kind of public examination the Pilot editors have in mind.

We do maintain, however, that the People's candidates have and are continuing to bring to the public a statement of their case "as to why changes should be made and how they propose to better the situation."

Beta Sigma Phi Asks Contributions for Guildhall Chair

Virginia Beach's chapter, Alpha Chi, of Beta Sigma Phi society, is asking for contributions to help them raise $300 to pay for a chair to put in the newly restored Guildhall, St. George, King's Lynn, Norfolk, England. The historic Guildhall, which was bombed out in the Blitz in World War II, is being restored and redecorated exactly as it was originally. The Hall will be officially reopened July 21 by Queen Elizabeth of England.

The project is of interest to Princess Anne County people in that King's Lynn was the boyhood home of Adam Thoroughgood, who built the Thoroughgood home in this county. It is believed that he named the Lynnhaven River after King's Lynn.

Miss Adelaide Hurd, president of the local chapter, expressed the hope that interested people in the county would contribute to the project. She said that the chair will be a replica of one destroyed, and that it would have the name of the donor carved on its back.

Before her death Mrs. Matthews was an active member of the Daughters of the Confederacy, Daughters of American Revolution, American Legion Auxiliary, and the First English Lutheran Church in Richmond.

Down the Line with Johnny Bell

Growing takes time

The farmer is a patient man; he knows that growing takes time. The number of telephones serving rural areas is growing every day. It takes time to construct long telephone pole lines, to build central offices, to engineer and install the switching equipment and finally to install the telephone that means so much to the farm family. This Company is doing a big job to increase the number of telephones in the rural areas it serves in Virginia.

Help yourself to better telephone service

When you have a number of calls to make, it's a good idea to spread them out, so that others on your line can use their telephones in the intervals. It works to your advantage, too, for it gives others a chance to reach you . . . often with calls you wouldn't want to miss. Friendly sharing of the line makes party-line service better for everybody concerned.

Give them time to answer

People you call can't always answer the telephone instantly. So it's a good idea not to hang up too soon—give them a chance to answer. When your telephone rings, answer it promptly. Patience when calling, promptness when called—a good rule to avoid the loss of important calls!

Miss Kentopoulos Wins Arion Award

June 30 Deadline for Veterans to Apply For Direct Loans

World War II veterans planning to apply for direct home and farm loans from the Veterans Administration were reminded by VA that the direct government loan program ends by law on June 30, 1951. VA said it would scarcely be possible in most instances to process applications before the June 30 deadline that are received by the VA regional offices after June 15.

While the direct government loan program ends this month, the regular GI loan program does not expire until July 25, 1951.

Both programs are subject to the same minimum down payments imposed by the credit controls announced October 12, 1950.

The Housing Act of 1950 authorized VA to make direct loans up to $10,000 at 4 per cent interest to World War II veterans with which to buy or build a home, or to build or improve a farmhouse. The act stipulated that VA was to make these direct loans in those areas of the country where the regular GI loans were not available from private lenders, and required VA to designate the areas available for direct loans.

Seafood Problems To Be Discussed At Accomack C. H.

The Virginia Advisory Legislative Council Committee on seafood problems has announced a fifth public hearing would be held at the Accomack County Court House at 8 p.m. Friday, June 29.

Previous hearings have been held at Eastville, Newport News, Gloucester and Kilmarnock in the committee's study which was authorized by the last General Assembly. The information assembled on the conservation, replenishment, production and marketing of oysters, fish, clams and other seafood will provide the committee with the background data for its recommendations to the legislative session of 1952.

Increased State regulation has been recommended by a number of spokesmen at the earlier hearings. Some of the specific suggestions were for stricter regulations on trawling, an increase in the legal size of fish, correlation of Virginia and North Carolina regulation of shrimp trawlers and the planting by the State of more seed oysters. Many other suggestions were taken under advisement by the Commission.

Delegate Paul Crockett, of Yorktown, is chairman of the committee.

The committee is especially interested in hearing from everyone as to the administration of the laws concerning seafood, enforcement of the laws regulating the taking of oysters and fish, the licenses required of those engaged in the seafood business, the operations of the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory, whether production of oysters and fish are declining or increasing, measures which can be taken to increase the production of fish and oysters, and other matters in connection with the foregoing.

Anyone desiring further information about the hearings is re-

Girl Scouting in Troops 207 & 224

In the fall of 1949, Girl Scouting was started at Stumpy Lake. Beginning with two girls who were anxious to "belong" to the worldwide organization, they have now grown to 24.

Scouting in rural sections presents several problems which in town need no consideration. One problem is transportation, getting everyone there and back again to their homes. Another, to find the most central meeting place and still another the age difference in those who can attend.

All of these problems have been met very satisfactorily, and according to the records there has been exceptional good attendance at all times, showing enthusiasm among the members for the Girl Scout program.

In March, 1950, Intermediate Girl Scout Troop No. 207 was registered with eleven members five in the tenderfoot group and six brownies. In March, 1951, Troop No. 207 was divided into the two specified age groups, creating a new Brownie Troop No. 224.

The 14 Girl Scouts are now Second Class, and are working on several badges. They recently had an International Friendship program on Norway, at which time exhibits of Norway's needlecraft, metalcraft, Norwegian songs and samples of handwriting were displayed.

The Brownies have had interesting handicraft programs from the beginning, and both troops held a Christmas workshop which was planned and carried out by the members.

Five girls attended the Camp Linnhorn Day Camp in 1950, and a much larger number is expected this year.

The leader of Troops 207 and 224 is Mrs. L. S. Clarke, with Mrs. E. H. Bradberry as assistant for the Intermediates, and Mrs. J. L. Hutchison as assistant for the Brownies. They are sponsored by the Salem Methodist Church.

A basic training leaders course has recently been held at the Court House, conducted by Miss Jean Baldwin, director of Girl Scouting in Princess Anne. An effort is also being made to have Creeds and Back Bay represented in the Girl Scout program.

Bay Colony Garden Club to Hold Contest For Beautification

The Bay Colony Garden Club will hold a beautification contest among its active members similar to that recently sponsored by the Council of Garden Clubs. The decision to hold the contest was reached at a meeting of the club last week at the home of Mrs. Robert G. Barr, Jr., with Mrs. John L. Olsen acting as co-hostess.

The contest will begin this month and will close and entries judged at the end of May, 1952.

One prize, a $50.00 bond, will be awarded.

The club will hold a barbecue on the afternoon of June 23 for members and their families.

Mrs. Emmett K. Kyle was guest speaker at the meeting. She also judged and commented upon the individual arrangements brought by members. Ribbons awarded were: gold, Mrs. John H. Thompson, III; blue, Mrs. E. H. Kinn; and red, Mrs. A. W. Baggett.

The first trees as we know them, with more-or-less solid wood and needle-like leaves, appeared in the Permian Age 235 million years ago.

Jr. Woman's Club Enters 'Build Freedom With Youth' Contest

Entry of the Princess Anne County Junior Woman's Club in a nationwide $25,000 prize "Build Freedom With Youth" contest has been announced by Mrs. John Tucker, club president. Sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the Kroger Company, the contest offers cash prizes for outstanding community work done by women's clubs in cooperation with teen-agers.

Designed to develop in young people deeper devotion to America and a greater understanding of the democratic way of life by encouraging youth participation in community affairs, the contest is open to federated clubs in the United States, Alaska and the District of Columbia. National awards of $10,000, $3,000 and $2,000, as well as state awards of $200 each, will go to winning clubs.

"We intend to win," said Mrs. Tucker, "but we will need the cooperation of teen-agers and adults alike to reach our goal."

Contest projects will come under eight broad classifications: health, welfare, education and citizenship, recreation, and employment. Each club will work with the youth of the community in both selecting and completing projects. Winners will be selected on the basis of the results achieved, measured in terms of needs of the community, the part taken by youth and the extent of their participation, and the degree to which other groups of the community are brought into the program.

"Build Freedom With Youth" is the second community improvement contest to be sponsored jointly by the General Federation and the Kroger Company. Last year's "Build A Better Community" contest resulted in many worthwhile community improvements in towns throughout America. Winner of the $10,000 first prize was the Twentieth Century Club of Iuka, Miss., a club of only 17 women.

Virginia Beach News

Dear Editor:

The following letter, signed "Kibitzer," was left at the office of the Virginia Beach Sun on May 31st:

"Appropos of your last week's editorial titled 'The Masterpiece Emerges,' when last kibitzed, the usurping chef (political incumbent) was 'hashing good government for the people' and the apprentice cook (current opposition) was 'roasting a foul.' With his usual audacity the chef now refers to the cook as making hash—as the situation is 'judged'—doubtless out of the chef himself. "Therefore, it appears that on August 8, the people will find in the classified following advertisement, to-wit: Lost throughout Princess Anne County on August 7, chef's 'ring'—made of steel, and brass finished. As badly broken, if found, kindly dispose of in nearest scrapheap." Today the Sun carried the editorial set out below, captioned:

OUT IN THE OPEN:

"Last week we were in receipt of a letter to the editor but did not publish it. We think it only fair to give our reason for not doing so. We have published letters by the same writer, using his 'pen' name. Ordinarily, the use of such names is not frowned upon by this newspaper, but we decided some weeks ago that all letters bearing on politics should be signed. So should 'Kibitzer' and all others who write on politics wish their offerings published (we still reserving the right to condense or not publish as we see fit) will allow us to print their names, we will give them due consideration.

"We have no doubt that such permission will be forthcoming in the instance of 'Kibitzer,' and have his letter on file for publication when the requested permission is granted."

The aforementioned communication to the Sun was written under my letterhead and bore my signature. The telephone number thereon—Virginia Beach 45—should not have been too difficult to reach in order to obtain permission to use my name instead of Kibitzer.

It was learned as a child, that when an opponent changes the rules of the game without notice during the contest, further play is futile unless the arbiters and the scene of play are changed. Hence this reply is sent to the Virginia Beach News rather than to the Sun.

To anyone interested, it may not be amiss to indicate why a "nom de plume" was used. Believing there is at least a grain of truth in the old bromide that "one can rest used to anything, even hanging if one hangs long enough," it appeared wise to save the stoutest arrows in my quiver for bigger game.

If the Sun questions my will to come "out in the open," it may reprint, as the file is available, any or every one of my open letters for the past two years—all signed.

Could it be that the chef can dish it out but can't take it? J. WILLCOX DUNN

Oceana Band Club To Sponsor Barbecue Dinner on June 23

The Oceana Band Club will sponsor a barbecue dinner at the Oceana Stadium, just south of the Virginia Beach Boulevard at Oceana, on Saturday, June 23. Dinner will be served beginning at 4 p.m.

The barbecue is being given by the Band Club in an effort to raise funds to complete payment on the new uniforms purchased by the club this year for the Oceana School Band.

The band, under the direction of James A. Cantwell, will be on hand to furnish music for the occasion, and there will be other attractions to assure fun for all.

Adult plates are $1.00, and children under 12 will be served for 50 cents.

Membership totaling about 1200 is at an all time high, according to J. Curtis Nottingham, secretary.

The convention program will open Monday morning with an address by the Governor of Virginia, John S. Battle.

Ellen Ann Maurer Becomes Bride
Of Ensign Treadwell Saturday

The marriage of Miss Ellen Ann Maurer, daughter of Mrs. Davis Maurer, to Ensign Lawrence Penfield Treadwell, Jr., USN, son of Captain Lawrence Penfield Treadwell, USN, (ret.), and Mrs. Treadwell, of Lighthorn Park, took place Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Old St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Norfolk. The ceremony was performed in the presence of relatives and friends. The altar was arranged with white gladioli, white anemones and lighted candles. Miss Elizabeth Caldwell, of Roanoke, cousin of the bride, played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by Albert Edward Hodgson. She wore a wedding gown of bridal white satin and Chantilly lace, fashioned with a lace bodice buttoned up the back with self-covered buttons and long sleeves ending in wedding peaks over the hands. The full gathered skirt of satin, accented with a lace panel down the front, formed a sweeping train. Her tiered, cathedral-length veil of imported illusion fell from a Juliet cap of Chantilly lace embroidered with pearls and she carried a round bouquet of Fleur d'Amour, centered with a white orchid and showered with Fleur d'Amour.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Kitchin, of Annapolis, Md., was maid of honor. She wore a gown of orchid marquisette over taffeta, styled with a strapless bodice cuffed with satin and topped with a bolero with a satin rolled collar. The snug bodice was accented by the full gathered skirt with bands of satin. She carried an arm bouquet of old fashioned garden flowers and wore a halo of matching flowers. The bridesmaids were Miss Sarah Deane Caldwell, of Roanoke, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Frank Lewis Pearce, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Francis Nelson Crenshaw, of Virginia Beach, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Donna Mary Stevenson, of Norfolk. They wore gowns of green marquisette over taffeta, made like that of the maid of honor. They carried arm bouquets of old fashioned garden flowers and wore halos of matching flowers.

Ensign James Patrick Kelley, USN, of Mansfield, Ohio, was best man and the groomsmen were Francis Nelson Crenshaw and Ensign Burton Lee Doggett, USN, both of Virginia Beach, 2nd Lt. William John Bell, USAF, Oren E. Hopkins, Jr., Hugh Murray Powell and Andrew Joe Banks, Jr., all of Norfolk. Mrs. John Robinson Elder was mistress of ceremonies.

The bride's mother wore a gown of wood violet chiffon with headress of orchid maline and purple orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of Dacia brown maline hat embroidered with seed pearls and a purple orchid corsage.

A reception was held at the Commissioned Officers Club, Naval Base. After a wedding trip, the couple will reside in the Larchmont Apartments, Norfolk.

Harriet Willcox, David Gearhart
Married Saturday in Norfolk

Miss Harriet Gale Willcox, daughter of Mrs. Edward Roane Willcox and the late Mr. Willcox, was married Saturday evening to David Franklin Gearhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Benjamin Gearhart, of Palmetto, Pa., in Christ and St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Norfolk. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Taylor Willis, rector of the church, and the Very Rev. George McKinley, of Palmetto, Pa., in the presence of relatives and friends. George Vail, church organist, played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Edward Roane Willcox, Jr. She wore a wedding gown of ivory satin, fashioned with fitted bodice and bertha of Rose Point lace, and the full skirt forming a train. Her full length veil of tulle fell from a coronet of heirloom lace caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a round bouquet of white carnations arranged with fleurs d'amour and stock.

Miss Mary Dunn Vandevanter was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Frances Waldrop Brooke, of New York, and Mrs. Emmett R. Spiced, of Palmetto, Pa., sister of the bridegroom. They wore dresses of white Swiss embroidered organza over aqua taffeta and carried leis of pale pink carnations. Little Miss Betsy Crawford, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John C. Crawford, was flower girl, and wore a frock of white organza over yellow taffeta and carried a nosegay of mixed Summer flowers.

But, what do we do
on Sunday?

WELL, some of us go to church and Sunday school. Some work in the garden or the garage. Some golf, fish, ride, look at television. Some take the kids out, take the dog out, take the screens out. Some go to ball games, book clubs, movies or museums. Some have big Sunday dinners or backyard barbecues. Some cook, clean closets, take up hems, take up Canasta. Some catch up on sleep. Some just sit. Some go to work in jobs that can't stop on Sundays, some go to work in emergencies.

If that sounds like some people you know... well, it is—because we're talking about the more than 4,400 VEPCOVIANS who live in the communities where they work... many of them your friends or neighbors, perhaps relatives. They have the same interests you do... pay the same taxes... spend their money with the same merchants.

Workdays, they're busy with dozens of different jobs essential to bringing you the cheap, dependable electric service you're used to... but Sundays, they're just the folks next door... sitting next to you at church, sweeping porches or garden tools over the back fence. VEPCOVIANS are citizens and good neighbors where they work!

Farmers Urged to Mobilize Farms for Defense, Says Lane

Princess Anne farmers are using the Agricultural Conservation Program to mobilize their farms for defense, R. W. Lane, county committee chairman of the Production and Marketing Administration, said this week.

He noted that the soil building practices carried out in the past and those now practiced by local farmers are increasing yields and preparing the land for even higher level defense production, if needed.

This increased production is drawing upon reserves of plant food that have been built up through conservation farming, Mr. Lane explained. But he said that this organic matter must be returned to the soil if we expect to continue the high production which the emergency requires. That means more cover and green manure crops, he said, more rotation pastures and other good conservation practices.

Already pasture improvement practices, especially stressed by FMA in Virginia the past two years, are giving increased grazing and more forage crops. This pasture program provides a timely supplement to the none too plentiful feed grain supplies in the production of much needed meat and dairy products.

This is one reason why the U. S. Department of Agriculture has just announced that it will give special attention to a national Grasslands Program, Mr. Lane said. "Grass has been called the basis of all agriculture. Certainly it is the base of any balanced farming program and essential to sustained agricultural production."

Navy Department Issues Call for Typists And Stenographers

The continuing state of national emergency has resulted in a great need for stenographers and typists in the Department of Navy, Washington, D. C., and in Arlington, Va., according to the department.

Salaries for these positions range from $2450 to $2875 a year. Annual leave earned is 20 days a year; sick leave earned, 15 days a year. Excellent in-service training is available; higher grade positions are generally filled from within the department.

A civilian Navy representative will be glad to discuss opportunities further with interested applicants between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m., Mondays through Saturdays or other times by appointment.

The address is: Main Navy Building, 18th and Constitution Avenue, Washington 25, D. C. The room is 0015A and the phone number is Liberty 5-6700, extension 65742 or 65743.

OPS Regulations Require Price Ceilings Be in View of Customer

An important development in price control of consumer items, intended to benefit the consumer and the business community, and to make enforcement of regulations easier, is now underway throughout the nation, according to C. E. Wright, District OPS Director.

This concerns requirements for public posting of item marking of legal ceiling prices, or of selling prices asserted to be at or below ceilings, enabling customers to tell at a glance just what price can be charged legally by the retailer. Such public posting will also, Office of Price Stabilization officials pointed out, simplify the task of enforcement, since the publicly displayed prices can easily be checked against records to prove that they conform, and OPS can be certain that items are not being sold at a higher level as long as customers know what the legal ceiling is.

These posted prices take several forms. Where it has been possible to establish specific dollars and cents ceilings for items, identical for all sellers of the same class in a region, the posting can be in the form of a printed placard listing them. When, however, prices must vary from store to store and are established on a cost markup basis, which may change from time to time, they are displayed by the business man himself, either ticketed on, at or near the items to be sold or, as in the case of service regulation, posted in a placard prepared by the operator.

Several retail categories are already operating with publicly displayed prices under regulations pertaining to them and others are required to begin doing so in the near future.

By early summer, posted or ticket prices will be displayed for commodities and services representing a major portion of the individual's consumer goods expenditures, Mr. Wright said.

Major fields in which consumer posting and item marking of prices are required under existing orders include: service station gasoline and oil sales, retail grocery stores, beef prices, services at retail, dry goods, household furnishings, etc.

Contractors to Bid On New Section of Beach Boulevard

Contractors' bids on another lap of the super Virginia Beach Boulevard has been asked by the State Highway Department. It will consist of 2.73 miles of four-lane divided construction between Flemings Corner and 1.49 miles west of Laskin Road.

This is only one of 24 road projects covering 80 miles or road work for which bids were asked by the highway department. The bids will be opened June 26 and 27 at the highway building auditorium in Richmond.

Included in the proposed construction is a section of divided highway on US 360 west of Richmond, an extension of widening and a major bridge on US 29 south of Lynchburg, and more than 80 miles of hard surfacing on secondary highways in twelve counties.

Council of Garden Clubs Asks Support In Beautification

Letters to be Sent Property Owners in Appeal for Clean-up

The Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County will join together, under the Council of Garden Clubs, to make an appeal to clean up and beautify the county. The clubs individually will send out appeals to owners, specifying particularly unsightly premises, and asking their cooperation in rectifying the situation.

Mrs. Floyd Dornier, who is president of the Council of Garden Clubs of Princess Anne County, said that the clubs will send out the following letter:

"The Council of Combined Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, with the cooperation of the city and county authorities, is engaged in promoting the interest of property owners of the community in cleaning and beautifying vacant lots and other properties with ramshackle buildings and sheds. We are also trying to stop the dumping of trash and garbage on and near our highways.

"It is human to tolerate unattractive conditions to which we are accustomed, but we have found an encouraging willingness on the part of owners to take immediate corrective action, once their attention has been called to the bad spots for which they are responsible.

"By improving and beautifying our properties we increase their values for sale and for rent. We attract additional permanent residents to our community of the type who will in turn maintain their houses and lots at the high standards of appearance for which Virginia Beach is now striving.

"In this spirit of community helpfulness, and we trust you will so regard this letter, we ask you to take a careful look at the..... at..... which we understand is owned by you, and take the steps required to help beautify our....."

Simpson Answers Charges Made by Organization

Charges County Business Goes to Machine Group

Robert Lee Simpson, candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney of Princess Anne County, last night accused the machine of conducting a "whispering type of campaign... a campaign of half truths and gross distortions of fact," and declared that the bosses of the machine are "interested in perpetuating their control over the affairs in the county and the town" because their businesses are being "fed, to a large extent, from the public purse."

In his 15-minute radio address, sponsored by the People's Ticket of which he is a candidate, Mr. Simpson answered charges which he said are being made against him as part of the whispering campaign of the machine.

"In the attempt to discredit and condemn me the machine has been whispering two ridiculous accusations, first: that I as a member of the Town Council received compensation from a private concern for inducing the Council against its wishes to pass a certain resolution; second: that I violated a law by voting on this resolution. Both contentions are falsehoods of the greatest magnitude. Ordinarily I would not even take the time to answer such ridiculous charges, but in this particular case I feel that I must do so inasmuch as the machine has made an issue of it," Mr. Simpson declared.

He explained that the issue was brought about when the Town Council, along with the Board of Supervisors, the City Council of Norfolk, and a number of other governing bodies passed resolutions approving the resumption of the midnight curfew for beer taverns. Mr. Simpson said that in his position as counsel for a wholesale concern having as a customer a group of local ABC licensees he had drawn up in legal form a petition to be signed by these customers suggesting that the Council adopt the resolution approving the extension of the curfew from 11 p.m. to midnight.

A County Purchasing Agent

Mr. Simpson proposed that the position of county purchasing agent be created in order to put the affairs of the county on a businesslike basis.

Specifically, he pointed to purchases from county funds to a motor company in which a then member of the County Board of Supervisors held an interest, which amounted to thousands of dollars for services performed, materials furnished, and quantities of various properties, including jeeps. He also said that during the time he held county office and subsequently, "a present high State official and political boss, formerly treasurer of Princess Anne County" is one of the partners and owners of a well-known insurance company which the records show received "many thousands of dollars in insurance premiums on various county properties."

"The law provides that these insurance premiums should never have been paid in the first instance; now that they have been paid, the law provides that this money can be recovered with interest by the county."

(Mr. Simpson cited the State Code in which it is provided: "This section provides in substance that no county supervisor, county treasurer, or any paid officer of the county shall become interested, directly or indirectly in any contract or any profits of any contract or in any premium or any profits therefrom paid in whole or in part by the county, or in the sale or furnishing of supplies or materials to such county. Any contract made in violation of any of these provisions shall be void. The amount embraced by any such contract, the value of any such supplies or materials shall never be paid, or if paid, may be recovered with interest by the county.")

Federal Savings, Loan Association Purchases Site

Future Plans Call for Building at Corner Of 25th and Pacific

The Virginia Beach Federal Savings and Loan Association has purchased a site on the southeast corner of 25th and Pacific Avenue on which will be constructed a permanent home for the institution. This announcement was made this week by W. H. Terry, Jr., secretary-treasurer of the Association.

The site fronts fifty feet on Pacific Avenue and one hundred feet on 25th Street and was purchased from H. E. Halstead for a consideration of approximately $18,000. The depth of one hundred feet includes an 8 foot strip along Pacific Avenue which was a part of the Norfolk Southern right-of-way recently purchased by the town. The transaction was handled by Rufus S. Kight of the real estate firm of Smith-Gustafson & Terry, Inc.

According to the secretary, the directors of the association are now studying plans for the new building and hope to begin construction within the next twelve months. However, due to Federal restrictions on this type of building, it may be necessary to delay the project for a further period.

"Our directors selected this site," Mr. Terry said, "because of its central location, the ample parking space in the area and because of the proposed development of Pacific Avenue as a main thoroughfare. They feel that a permanent and properly designed home for the institution is necessary for its continued growth."

The Virginia Beach Association was chartered in 1935. Its present officers and directors are: Roy Smith, president; Judge F. E. Kellam and R. B. Taylor, vice presidents; W. H. Junior Woman's Club Sets Up Welfare Bank for Needy Citizens

A "Welfare Bank" which will benefit needy citizens of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, opens officially today (June 22), as a current project of the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County. The bank, which is located at the corner of 19th Street and Arctic Avenue, has been donated rent-free to the club by Myron Sturgeon. It will be stocked with housing equipment of every sort available, and will also include clothing and a canned food store. To date, most of the stock has been donated by members of the club, but in the future any contributions by residents of the town and county will be most welcome.

Mrs. Fred Trummer, welfare chairman of the club, is heading the project, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Wolcott, Jr., Mrs. Walter J. Parker and Mrs. W. W. Connell. Mrs. Trummer, president of the club, may be contacted by telephone when anyone wishes to

Observation Corps Alerted for Duty Over Week-end

Those persons who have signed as volunteers in the ground observation corps are requested to get in touch with the chief observer or one of the deputies for instructions as to exercises to be held June 23 and 24, continuously from 9 a.m. Saturday to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Reeves E. Johnson said that this is the first operation which will run continuously through the two days, including night observation, and it is most important that the volunteers are on hand to participate.

Volunteers are asked to report by telephone to W. K. Macdonald, who is chief observer, or his deputies, Mrs. Harry F. Ames, Avenue C, and E. W. Smith, Bank of Virginia Beach. Mr. Macdonald can be reached either by calling the Princess Anne Lumber Company or at his home, telephone 1776.

There should be enough volunteers, according to Chief Johnson, to avoid hours of duty of more than an hour, and to avoid doubling up.

The exercises this week-end, Chief Johnson said, will be interesting and informative. He urged that those who have not yet signed up, do so at once in order that they, too, might be able to participate.

Bounds Reports on Boardwalk Damage; To Cost Over $70,000

Annexation of North Virginia Beach and becoming a city of the second class both were shelved by the majority vote of the town council in a meeting Monday night, with a vote of four to two of the councilmen in both cases. Mayor W. F. Patton voted "nay" on reopening annexation and "aye" on pursuit of the action to become a second-class city.

In addition, the group acted favorably on a petition from Mrs. Charles W. Emanuelson, president of the Lincroft Park Garden Club, asking for street markers in the section; heard a report from the architects of the proposed Virginia Beach High School; heard ex-Town Engineer Carroll J. Bounds explain plans for repairing erosion damage on 300-feet of the boardwalk from 17th to 19th Street; heard a report from the Police Chief.

Annexation

A motion by Robert L. Simpson that annexation be instituted now was turned down by a vote of four to two, with the Mayor agreeing with the majority. The discussion came about following a request to the council of a meeting of the so-called "annexation committees," composed of eight members appointed by the council and eight members of a group of "independent taxpayers," who recommended that annexation should not be taken up at the present time for financial reasons.

Mr. Simpson said that it is a question of "now or never" on annexation; that the legal process should be instituted now; that it is not a question for a committee to decide, but should be heard by the court which is scheduled and learned in the law.

W. W. McClanahan pointed out that the citizens of North Virginia Beach need the town; that they have many problems which annexation would solve for them, particularly sanitary problems involving the use of septic tanks in an area that is fast becoming densely populated. Mr. McClanahan said that the committee referred to was not representing the town's interests.

Voting for annexation: McClanahan and Simpson; opposed, Barr, Halstead, Manson, Gregory and Mayor Patton.

City of the Second Class

After the defeat of the proposal to institute the annexation proceedings, Councilman Simpson then proposed to proceed at once to put in motion the machinery to become a city of the second class (requiring 5,000 or more

Penn L. Withers, Jr., Awarded $35,000 for Injuries in Accident

The Supreme Court of Appeals of the State of Virginia on Monday affirmed a judgment of $35,000 to Penn L. Withers, Jr., against the Atlantic Coast Line and R. Dawson Taylor.

The judgment, the largest in the history of Princess Anne County for personal injuries, was granted in Princess Anne Circuit Court in November, 1949, after Mr. Withers was seriously injured in a train-automobile collision in North Carolina. Mr. Taylor was driver of the automobile which crashed into a derailed freight car of the Atlantic Coast Line, which was stopped across the roadway, allegedly without warning lights or watchman. The accident occurred in 1948 in North Carolina when the young man were on their way to a football game.

The railroad's attorneys maintained that North Carolina law does not require watchmen or warning lights, hence the railroad was not responsible.

Mr. Withers' injuries resulted in hospitalization for six months, and permanent shortening of one of his legs.

THE MACHINE IN BUSINESS

Robert Simpson, People's Ticket candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney, last night touched upon the lodestone of the Kellam machine's power when he pointed out that not only do the business enterprises owned partially or in whole by members of the ring profit by continued machine control, but enterprises of the ring satellites flourish at the expense of the county's taxpayers, with the competitors suffering adversely by daring to oppose the outrageous autocracy of these in power.

After naming directly several such enterprises, Mr. Simpson continued to point out "various other enterprises, organization controlled or owned, or in which they have an interest, which receive great portions of the county business, to the almost complete exclusion of competitors in like businesses. I wish to make it clear that these latter concerns have a perfectly legal right, so far as I know, to do business with the county, but the situation serves to further illustrate the selfish and close-knit circle into which the county business is channeled. Their hand-picked machine candidates, of course, are servants of the machine and not of the people. They, of necessity, will be compelled to perpetuate these long continued practices that have for their objective the enrichment of the machine leaders and the blocking off from competitors their fair share of county trade."

The machine continues to attract, however, not only through greed, but through fear of other business concerns. There are few enough who will starve for a principle; when it comes to starving also their families, their wives and children, there is a big and strong argument for joining with the machine.

The privilege which is granted these concerns is a wonderful anesthetizing agent; the good word is passed when there is profit to be made or prestige to be gained by these pitiful satellites, and it is small wonder that the machine's smile is counted and the last vestige of self respect is drained from the recipient.

The revolting spectacle of respectable men and women being taken in to the point where they are morally blinded to the autocratic implications of the situation is enough to sadden and discourage the stoutest democratic heart.

The right and the wrong is being confused by the political bosses—their stooges harken and repeat the confusion.

This is one instance where what "Sidney says" is not necessarily so, and his saying so does not make it right or proper to conduct the affairs of the county and the government of the county along lines foreign to the democratic precepts that found their nurture here on the soil of Virginia through the great democratic leaders who were our forefathers.

EROSION CONTROL

Again we plead with those who are responsible for acting. Let us call in experts and get plans underway to halt the erosion of our beach. Let us stop fiddling and discussing; let us act.

WAVERLY DICKENS, III

For the second time, Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County is sending to a World Boy Scout Jamboree a young representative of our county. Waverly Dickens, III, Eagle Scout, will be the only Scout who will attend from the entire Tidewater area, and he is well deserving of the honor thus thrust upon him. Four years ago Tommie Currie was similarly honored.

The Princess Anne District is now trying to raise sufficient funds to care for the expenses that will be entailed in sending our youthful representative abroad. There have already been many pledges, but it is our understanding that more is needed.

What better way to spend that $5 or $10 than to show to the youth of the world what a real American boy is? What better way to show the world how we raise Americans to be all that America can and should stand for in the troubled world?

Jaycees Urge Complete Registration

"Check Your Car, Check Accidents," Says Safety Council

You must see danger to avoid it!

The National Safety Council made that statement as part of its campaign urging motorists to "Check Your Car, Check Accidents."

One of the major check-points—often overlooked but vital to safety—is the condition of windshield wiper blades, the Council said.

Motorists were urged to check not only the operation of the wipers, but also the effectiveness of the blades themselves. This depends on clean blades and clean glass, and on replacement of the blades if necessary.

The importance of windshield smear as an accident cause cannot be measured accurately, the Council pointed out, but the glare of a streaked or smeared windshield when the sun or approaching headlights strike it undoubtedly contributes to many mishaps.

Studies have shown the chief cause of windshield smear to be an oily film picked up from the exhausts of other vehicles and from the road surface, the Council said. When a rain starts, dust and ordinary dirt are removed by the water and the squeeze action of the rubber blade, but the oily film remains to cause smear.

The film can be removed from the windshield by using wax-free cleaning solutions and clean wiping rags, but smear will not be eliminated unless the wiper blade is thoroughly cleaned, too. A survey of cleaning methods at service stations has revealed that the blade is seldom given attention, although it is coated with the same residue of oil, bugs and dirt that is found on the glass. In addition to contributing to smear, the oily deposit on the blade eventually will deteriorate the live action of the rubber.

The Council said that motorists do not understand or are not fussy enough about this point. Drivers were urged to insist on proper cleaning methods when the car is serviced—an oil-cutting cleaning solution, clean wiping cloth and careful cleaning of the wiper blade itself.

In fact, the Council advised motorists to take the trouble to occasionally unhook the blades from the arms—a simple matter—and scrub them in a mild solution of washing soda.

To the Editor
Virginia Beach News

Dear Sir:
On April 18 the State went to Court in Chicago to take a child from its parents in order that doctors might give the child a blood transfusion. The parents, Darrell and Rhoda Labrenz, are Jehovah's Witnesses and view blood transfusions as a violation of God's law, and opposed the transfusion on scriptural grounds. The Labrenz's have faith in Jehovah's promise of eternal life in the new world, for themselves and for their two children. To disobey would mean to lose both their lives and that of their two children, as God puts before us obedience unto everlasting life, and disobedience unto everlasting death.

In this case the Federal Civil Rights Act has been violated in taking the child from its parents and given to one of another faith, and tampering with the child's blood and court action is to be brought against Judge Dunne and the one appointed as guardian, and the doctors as they have adhered in a precedent too dangerous to be allowed to stand.

The decision made by the couple was a hard test on their faith. The issue is Bible Truth. Do we really believe it and apply it, not just when it is easy, but specially when it becomes hard and a sore testing? Are we Christians only in fair weather, giving lip service to the Bible, but capitulating when the test becomes stormy and severe? Our course will determine whether we are

Christians in name only, or Christians in deed as well. . . . Jehovah's Witnesses are proud of the Labrenz! (Mrs.) Nannie D. Reynolds P. O. Box 24 London Bridge, Virginia

State's Secondary Road Mileage Now Over 12,000 Mark

The State Highway Department this week released figures which show that Virginia's hard surfaced secondary road mileage has passed the 12,000 mark.

As of January 1, the road agency reported, hard surfaced farm-to-market and connecting roads in 97 counties totaled 12,092 miles. (Warwick, Arlington and Henrico are not in the secondary system.)

Princess Anne County had a total of 250.45 miles hard surfaced as of that date.

Highway engineers are currently tabulating figures on the amount and cost of work needed to bring the secondary road system to standards adopted for the long-range improvement program. The analysis is expected to be completed this Fall.

Long-range plans call for hard surfacing all roads carrying more than 50 vehicles daily, gravel or stone surfacing all roads carrying between 10 and 50 vehicles, and putting a light surface for all-weather travel on roads with less than 10 vehicles daily. Also, bringing all bridges to a minimum of 10 tons capacity.

Since the adoption of the extra 1c gasoline tax in 1946, which provided a substantial increase for secondary roads, the hard surfaced secondary road mileage has grown from 7,860 to the present 12,092.

Engineers pointed out, however, that while Virginia has made long strides in improvement of the secondary roads, the increase in prices has kept pace with increased funds and limited the amount of work that could be done in any one year. This applies particularly to bridges where large sums of money are needed for short sections of work.

Va. Travel Council To Make Bid for More Conventions

The Virginia Travel Council is laying plans for an aggressive campaign to attract more national conventions in Virginia, and President George W. Summermon, of Bristol, has just announced the appointment of Leonard K. Barber, of Richmond, as chairman, and Edmond H. Brill, of Richmond, as secretary of a special committee on conventions and group meetings.

Kenneth R. Hyde, of Roanoke, president of Shenandoah Valley, Inc., has been designated as vice-chairman. Other members of the committee include Sidney Banks, president of the Cavalier-Jefferson Corporation, Al Lewis, of Norfolk, convention manager of the Norfolk Association of Commerce, James N. Hunter, manager of the Natural Bridge, Jack G. Metz, manager of sales for the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, and Frank H. Briggs, manager of the Homestead, at Hot Springs.

The Council has recently issued a convention guide to Virginia, to be sent to all national organizations holding regional or national meetings. It has also developed a convention display for use in soliciting conventions that has been shown at several national meetings.

Mr. Summermon pointed out that Virginia has never made a determined effort to attract national conventions and that more than 5,000 hold meetings annually. Of these far less than a hundred a year have been meeting in Virginia.

Of Warner Moore, III, Saturday Ann Sheild Perkins Becomes Bride

The marriage of Miss Ann Sheild Perkins, daughter of Mrs. Allan Armistead Perkins, of Norfolk, and the late Dr. Perkins, to Warner Moore, III, son of Mrs. Margaret Conway Moore, of Virginia Beach, and Warner Moore, Jr., of Richmond, took place Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Old St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Norfolk. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Moultrie Querry, rector of the church, in the presence of relatives and friends. The altar was arranged with cathedral candles, white stock, gypsophylla and white gladioli. Cecil W. Wilkins, organist of the church, played the wedding music.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her mother, was escorted by her brother-in-law, Clement Samuel Kester. She wore a wedding gown of magnolia Duchess satin, fashioned with a yoke of tulle forming an off-the-shoulder neckline, scroll bertha edged and embroidered in seed pearls, tight bodice and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The full satin skirt was veiled in magnolia tulle and extended into a cathedral train. Her full length veil of magnolia French illusion fell from an heirloom rose point lace cap and she carried a spray of gardenias and stephanotis. Her only ornaments were an heirloom brooch and earrings of seed pearls and filligree gold, which belonged to her great-grandmother.

Mrs. Arnold John Capute, of Washington, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Oscar Raymond Yates, Jr., were the matrons of honor, and the bridesmaids were Misses Alice Charles Armistead, Mary Twissier Addison, Eunice Wortham Jenkins, Jeanne Warren Prieur and Katherine Tudor Wilcox. All the attendants wore ballerina length gowns of champagne lace over taffeta and net, fashioned with square necklines, shirred bodices with green satin belts and full gathered skirts. They wore a strand of pearls and carried magnolias tied with green satin bows. Little Miss Louise Temple Kester, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress of champagne organza over matching taffeta tied at the waist with green velvet ribbon and carried a nosegay of mixed white flowers.

John Lonsdale Roper, III, was best man and the groomsmen were Richard Henry Lee Chichester, of Richmond; Lynwood Weaver, of Martinsville; James Turner Hamlin, III, of Danville; Griffin Bull Deal, of Virginia Beach, and George Wisham Roper, II, and John Hart Lawless.

The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of sapphire blue lace over taffeta, fashioned with a starched paphum sprinkled with blue sequins and an orchid corsage.

After the ceremony, a reception was given at the Commissioned Officers' Club, Naval Base. Later Mr. and Mrs. Moore left for a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania and upon their return they will reside at 1017 Westover Avenue, Norfolk.

The bride wore for traveling a suit of cocoa shantung trimmed with rhinestone buttons, matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martin, Jr., of the University of Virginia, were guests last week at the Princess Anne Club.

Barbara Ann Booker, Ens. Allan Van Palmer Married Wednesday

The marriage of Miss Barbara Ann Booker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brandon Bell Booker, to Ensign Allan Van Palmer, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arthur Palmer, of Savanna, Ill., took place Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Galilee Episcopal Church.

The ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. William A. Brown. The church was decorated with gladioli, asters, magnolia leaves, syphilis and lighted candles. Mrs. George L. Aldridge played the wedding music, and L. Huntley Patterson sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a wedding gown of white satin fashioned with a deep yoke edged in pearl and bead design, and long sleeves ending in points over the hands; fitted bodice and full skirt forming a circular train. Her finger-tip veil of imported illusion fell from a satin halo caught at intervals with single pearls and she carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid and showered with Stephanotis. Her only ornaments were a pearl choker and an antique gold bracelet.

Miss Lillian Bell Booker was trimmed in white, white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

bridesmaids were Miss Anne Elizabeth Davis and Miss Anne Morrow Osborn. All the attendants wore gowns of white organza over taffeta with eyelet organza jackets, made with Peter Pan collars and bracelet length sleeves with deep cuffs. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of deep red gladioli centered with white gladioli, and the bridesmaids carried Colonial bouquets of deep red gladioli.

C. J. Larsen, of Ames, Iowa, was best man, and groomsmen were Robert C. Shelly and Frank C. Booker, Jr., and Roy T. Booker, Jr., of Norfolk.

The bride's mother wore a dinner gown of lilac chiffon over taffeta with a matching hat, white accessories and a corsage of gardenias. The bridegroom's mother wore a dinner gown of mist green crepe with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the American Legion Club. Later, Ensign and Mrs. Palmer left for a wedding trip to the mountains of Pennsylvania; and upon their return they will make their home in San Diego, Calif. The bride wore for traveling a brown butcher linen suit.

Mary W. Christian Weds W. C. Haycox in Rites at Lynchburg

The marriage of Miss Mary Whitely Christian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lynch Christian, of Lynchburg, and William Crowell Haycox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Addenbrook Haycox, of Virginia Beach, took place Tuesday of last week at the home of the bride's parents on Oakwood Place, Lynchburg.

The Rev. Hugh M. Burleigh, pastor of the Court Street Methodist Church, performed the ceremony in a setting of ciborium, fern, Stephanotis, gladioli, larkspur and lilies.

Music for the wedding was played by Robert L. Moore, organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was gowned in diaphanous tulle, fashioned over taffeta, fitted bodice, long tulle sleeves, ornamented on the turn-back cuff with cut-out motifs from old rosepoint lace, repeated on a small, high-collared neckline. The bouffant skirt flowed to a cathedral train. The full-length veil of illusion was held with a flare of heirloom rosepoint lace, edging the veil. Her flowers were Stephanotis and a creamy spray orchids.

Mrs. Duval Holt was the bride's only attendant. Her maid-of-honor dress was in a pastel-blue shade and was fashioned of marquisette, the snug strapless bodice finished in front with standing petals of the material, and at the waistline in back to form a short bustle. She carried yellow-hued flowers. Frederick A. Haycox, Jr., was his brother's best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Beaconboro Country Club. The couple left for a Northern wedding trip and upon their return will reside at Virginia Beach.

The bride traveled in a navy blue ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Willis Houston moved the latter part of May to their summer cottage, "Grest-vold Lodge," Bird Neck Point, to spend the summer and early autumn.

the proposal, like annexation, has

W. W. McClanahan Decries Manner Machine Dominated Councilmen Defeated Two Important Issues

Explains How City Of Second Class and Annexation Lost

Condemning county machine domination of the affairs of the Town of Virginia Beach, W. W. McClanahan, town councilman, said in a radio address last night: "I am positive that if the candidates of the People's Ticket are elected, the all-powerful county political machine will be broken, thus returning to Virginia Beach and the county the right of government by men answerable only to the people who elected them."

Mr. McClanahan, speaking over WTAR, outlined by way of illustration, the manner in which important questions involving the welfare of Virginia Beach have been handled by the "machine-controlled faction of the town council."

Annexation, he said, is "no doubt a controversial question," but the misleading and side-stepping manner in which the issue was handled in the council speaks for itself. He maintained that the matter should properly and lawfully be determined only by an annexation court in accordance with the law, and not by a group of laymen. He added that "somebody must have been fearful of what the Court's decision might have been; otherwise, this citizens' committee, over which there was exercised some influence and control would never have been created, or its decision accepted."

"There had been no doubt in mind for the past year that we would become a city just as soon as the Federal census showed that the town had more than 5,000 population, which population by law, constitutes the figure necessary for a town to become a city. The town council had told me individually and collectively that they wanted to see Virginia Beach become a city of the second class."

But had not taken action as we knew that under the present State law, cities are unable to institute annexation proceedings.

"Now, since annexation had been definitely killed in the regular June meeting of the council, by a split vote of 4 to 2, the sole obstacle to our becoming a city had been removed. I felt sure that this was the time to petition our Circuit Court to put into motion the proper machinery for having Virginia Beach declared a city. To my great disgust and amazement, at the same June meeting, the motion offered by Mr. Simmons and seconded by myself and which I carried would have made us a city, was defeated by the same four machine dominated councilmen."

He explained to his listeners the manner in which the townspeople are paying a doubled tax to the county into the general fund. The rate of 80 cents is applied to the town tax payers, even though the assessed valuation was arbitrarily doubled (at the same time all other town taxes were cut in half) with the result that the people of Virginia Beach pay two times what they normally should. This excess, according to Mr. McClanahan, was to be refunded to the town according to promises by the county governing body.

"Mr. W. Russell Hatchett, while town manager, went to the county officials and requested that this excess tax money be refunded to the town, as had been previously agreed," Mr. McClanahan continued. "It then became perfectly obvious that in acting in the best interests of the town, Mr. Hatchett was jeopardizing his position as town manager. This action on his part did not meet with the approval of the machine rulers and they then brought to bear their influence on the members of the council whom they control, the natural result of which is that Mr. Hatchett's position as town manager was brought to an abrupt end."

Local Boards to Permit Students Choice of Service

Virginia Selective Service Local Boards are now sending letters to college and high school students which will give each student, who has been ordered for induction, the opportunity to request permission to enlist in the branch of service of his choice, provided he makes this choice within thirty days.

College students who do not qualify scholastically for deferment or do not make the necessary score on the Selective Service college qualification test may choose their branch of service. College and high school students who have been ordered for induction and whose induction was postponed until the end of the academic year must enlist and report for active duty within thirty days after the close of school.

Letters are also being mailed to college students, whether ordered for induction or not, requesting information as to whether the student has taken or will take the Selective Service college qualification test, and whether or not the college that he attended during the last academic year is going to inform the Local Board of his scholastic standing.

A college student, whether ordered for induction or not, will be considered for deferment during the next school year if he makes a qualifying score on the test or has a qualifying scholastic standing. Students should reply promptly to letters from their local boards regarding the tests and class standing in order that the local board may delay further processing of the student for induction long enough to consider the evidence to be received, an official at State Headquarters said today.

Additional Voting Booths Authorized For Beach Precinct

At least a partial solution to the voting problem may take place when voters go to the Virginia Beach precinct to vote August 7, according to election officials.

It was announced that eight voting booths will be set up at the Town Hall, the Beach's only polling place, instead of the usual two.

Wallace Clark, one of the three Virginia Beach precinct judges, said that the board expects to be able to handle the expected 3,000 voters without difficulty if the voters co-operate.

He said that with the new set-up the precinct would be able to vote eight persons at one time, while eight more are being checked off and preparing to cast their ballots.

"I do not expect any holdup in the polling place," he said. "I do, however, hope that the voters will co-operate by coming out to the polls as early as possible."

The previous record vote at Virginia Beach was 1,402 in the June 1948 town election. At that time only 1,800 voters were registered on the books. Since then the number registered has increased more than 1,000.

Registrar to Sit at Town Hall July 7

Champer Hearne, registrar of the Virginia Beach precinct, has announced that he will sit at the Town Hall on July 7 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. to register those who desire to do so.

This is the final day on which residents can register to vote in the primary election. Mr. Hearne has asked that those desiring to register bring along poll tax receipts.

Patricia Phillips Wins Recognition For 4-H Club Work

Announcement is Made at State 4-H Club Short Course

Patricia Phillips, 4-H Club member and winner of the county and state awards for home grounds beautification, is attending the State 4-H Club Short Course at Blacksburg under the sponsorship of the Princess Anne Woman's Club.

According to H. W. Odlin, county agent, Patricia has carried on her project of home grounds beautification as the only one she could handle at home, and has done an excellent job in improving the appearance of both house and lawn about her home. The 1950 State prize, a 17-jewel solid watch, was donated by Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, of Chicago. This award was announced June 27 at Blacksburg, although she will receive only a certificate of the award until the watch is available next Fall, when she will receive it at the Princess Anne Annual 4-H Club Achievement program.

Mr. Odlin said that she did not know she would receive the State award until the announcement Wednesday.

Mr. Odlin said that Patricia has consistently carried out improved methods of home ground beautification and has done all of the work herself. Her work thus far in 1951 consists of keeping the lawn neatly cut, planting numerous Summer flowers, caring for the shrubs and roses, painting the blinds on her home, and putting up an attractive fence around the yard. In addition to her home beautification work, he said, Patricia does most of the cooking for the family, besides caring for a large number of rabbits and bull terrier pups.

Ann L. Simmons on Honor Roll at Mary Washington College

Recognition of the scholastic standing of Ann Leighton Simmons, of Virginia Beach, has been given by the inclusion of her name on the Dean's List of Honor Students, which has been released for the second semester at Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia by Dean Edward Alvey, Jr.

Miss Simmons, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Macell Simmons, of 207 53rd Street, was similarly honored the first semester this year. A graduate of Maury High School, she majors in psychology and belongs to Cavalry and the staff of the college annual, "The Battlefield."

County 4H Clubs Plan for Work of Year

The first annual Planning Meeting of the Princess Anne County 4-H Club girls' projects was held in the committee room of the new agricultural building last Thursday, with junior and adult leaders and club members representing all eight of the county 4-H clubs in attendance. These club members and leaders participated in the group discussions which were led by Miss Helen Ricks, district home demonstration agent, and Miss Jane Craig, local home agent, on program building and why it is important. It was an enthusiastic group of girls that contributed their opinions to the building of a worthwhile program of project work which will begin in September.

It was brought out that there are many advantages in having the program planning thus far in advance. Between now and the beginning date of the project work, additional leaders will be secured and leaders' training meetings held.

The program that was set up is as follows:
I. Meal Planning, Preparation and Service:

Entertainment for Service Personnel Organized by Club

Junior Woman's Club Asks Girls to Register For Entertainment

The Fort Story Service Club as well as the Dam Neck Recreation Center are focal points of activity each Thursday and Friday since the service personnel entertainment committee of the Princess Anne Junior Woman's Club has organized planned trips to these clubs. For the past three months chaperoned busloads of young girls between the ages of 17 and 25 have been enjoying the dancing, food and entertainment provided at these clubs.

Ann Culpepper, chairman of the club committee, has received the full cooperation of officers in charge of these events, and they in turn have provided transportation for the girls to and from the Beach. Members of the Junior Woman's Club, along with their husbands and friends, are chaperones for the parties, which are also chaperoned by officers in charge of the affairs.

Buses leave the Community House, but each girl is returned to her own home or hotel in a bus which is chaperoned. Girls interested in attending should contact any member of the Princess Anne Junior Woman's Club, who will arrange her introduction.

The Fort Story Service Club dances are held each Thursday night, with the bus leaving the Community House at 7:45 p.m., returning at 11 p.m. Soft drinks and refreshments are served, and enlisted personnel "hosts" are present to introduce the girls to make a more congenial group. Informal "date" dresses are the accepted attire.

The Dam Neck enlisted personnel parties are held every other Friday, at which time a banquet is arranged for the visiting girls. The bus leaves the Community House at 6:45 p.m. and returns at 11:30 p.m. Cold beer, soft drinks and refreshments are also served later.

Members of the club are anxious to continue the sponsorship of these arrangements for the entertainment of personnel, and to make the events a success. Those girls interested in attending are urged to contact club members.

PRINCESS ANNE AFRICAN VIOLET SOCIETY MEETS

The Princess Anne African Violet Society held a meeting at the home of Mrs. A. J. Kestules, on 18th Street, Thursday, June 21, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Frank Klepper was co-hostess with Mrs. Kestules. Eighteen were present: twelve members, four visitors, and two new members.

First Meeting of Club Recently Organized To Be Held Monday

The first meeting of the Junior American Citizens Club organized recently by the youth of Chesapeake Beach will be held Monday, July 2, at 7:30 p.m. at the Chesapeake Beach Community House. Detailed organizational plans will be made, standing committees named, and a date selected for installation and initiation ceremonies. All youth of Chesapeake Beach from 12 to 21 years of age have been invited to attend this meeting and become members. Miss Jean Ann Petty, president, will preside.

The club is being sponsored by the Great Bridge Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. J. Wives Worham, regent, and the Roman's Club of Chesapeake Beach, Inc. Mrs. R. W. Sprull, president. Mrs. R. S. Mullin, a member of the Allegheny Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and a member also of the Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club, is the coordinator for both organizations.

More than 250,000 boys and girls, throughout the country, are enrolled in over 11,000 Junior American Citizens Clubs, sponsored by the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution. The object of the club is the mutual improvement of members by the study of the history of the United States of America—national and state—and the underlying principles of national, state and municipal government; the discussion and practice of patriotism, and the promotion of good citizenship and sincere preparation for intelligent and unselfish participation in the duties of citizenship. Their motto is "Justice-Americanism-Character."

Oceana Civic League Appears Before Body With Petition on Road

The Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors on Monday went on record as opposing the abandonment of approximately 3 miles of Route 615 until a new route in accordance with the wishes of the State Highway Department and the Board is provided.

The proposed abandonment of the road from Oceana south came as part of the U. S. Navy's expansion plans in connection with the Naval Auxiliary Air Station at Oceana. The supervisors' resolution will go to the Navy Commandant of the Fifth District, the two United States senators from Virginia, the representatives in the House of Representatives of the United States, and the highway department.

In it, the supervisors declare that the abandonment of the road without suitable replacement means "an unlawful taking," that it will cause irreparable injury and gross inconvenience to those living in the area, that lives and property will be endangered, that 250 high school students are thus transported to the Oceana High School.

Action was taken by the board after a delegation from the Oceana Civic League appeared before them protesting the closing of the road. The only other route south, declared the civic league representatives, would cause them great inconvenience, taking them either half a mile of "Virginia Beach" Maurice Simmons presented the League's petition. He was accompanied by Maurice McKenney and other members of the group.

The supervisors will also ask the Navy to give all possible assistance to the Back Bay drainage improvement project. They heard a resume of the project from R. O. Halstead, State game warden, and Col. Aubrey Holmes, soil conservation technician for Princess Anne County.

Col. Holmes reported that since the Navy has acquired 16 square miles from Camp Pendleton to Dam Neck their approval is required.

The project will divert drainage to a canal to be constructed to carry waters northward to Rudee Inlet. It will improve drainage of farm lands in the Back Bay area which now suffer severe injury when winds back up waters in the North Bay. Moreover, the project is a wildlife conservation measure, in that it will relieve North Bay of blackwater from the swampslands which, after it flows back into Back Bay, pollutes and stagnates with the result that it kills the grasses—on which wild fowl live.

The county will renew the audit contract of M. La Goodman, Norfolk accountant, for auditing the county books at a maximum charge of $1,000. Last year's audit cost $1,500.

The board appropriated $4,450 in matching funds for State-local hospitalization for a six-month period; save $250 to the King's Daughters; approved $1,000 toward the building of a fire station addition at Seateack being built by the Seateack Volunteer Fire Department, and $1,000 for the Ocean Park Fire Department.

OCEANA CIVIC LEAGUE TO MEET AT SCHOOL MONDAY

The Civic League of Oceana will have a meeting at the Oceana High School on Monday, July 2, at 8 p.m.

All residents of Oceana are invited.

THE SECOND VOTING PRECINCT ROUND AND ROUND WE GO

The Town's Attorney says that the town officials have no jurisdiction at all in asking for or establishing a second voting precinct for Virginia Beach.

The Commonwealth's Attorney says that Sec. 24-46 of the Virginia Election Laws applies to petitioners for a second voting precinct only if Sec. 24-51 (Changes not to be made within 30 days of election; notice required) is added by.

The Circuit Court Judge says that he agrees with the Commonwealth's Attorney, that Sec. 24-51 applies to the petitioners for a voting precinct, not to himself.

The Governor says the petitioners are all taken care of in Sec. 24-46.

The Attorney General says that it's provided for in the Code of Virginia, and that the town officials are responsible.

Round and Round We Go, and Where We Stop Nobody Will Know!

THE CASE OF THE COMMONWEALTH VS. THE PEOPLE

We are interested in the Commonwealth's Attorney's role in the recent two-precinct fiasco.

By this time the voters in the county realize that Virginia Beach's upwards of 3,000 voters believe they will have an impossible time trying to crowd into the single voting precinct on August 7 to cast their votes.

A petition signed by 30 qualified voters and property owners went to Circuit Court Judge Floyd E. Kellam on May 22. He set a date for hearing on June 7 for June 22. Note that Sec. 24-46 of the Virginia Election Laws says: "Upon the petition of 30 qualified voters of a managerial district of a county . . . the circuit court of the county may, in term time or in vacation, in ITS DISCRETION, . . . alter the boundaries of any election district therein, and rearrange, increase or diminish the number thereof. . . ."

Note also that there is no mention of posting notice; that comes into the picture in the fifth section following.

Note also that 24-46 is Order (the Judge's that is) to designate new district; 24-46 is Posting Copy of Order (the Judge's order again); and 24-51 as cited above, Changes not to be made within 30 days of election; notice required.

We believe that if the Commonwealth's Attorney had the interests of the people at heart, and not the interests of The Machine, he would have been able to give the petitioners a bit of a boost toward their objective by counselling them as to the proper procedures, if he sincerely believes the interpretation of the law to be as he indicated in court.

We can scarcely understand why he appeared in court to fight the people; why his first words were a motion to dismiss the petition. Does not the additional voting precinct aid the cause of the opposing factions equally?

We feel that the Commonwealth's Attorney has demonstrated again and again a tendency to forget the people in favor of the entrenched interests of the Machine. We deplore the situation, and regret that it exists.

He, above all persons, should have sympathy with the rights of the individual; he, above all persons, should do all in his power to protect those rights. It is the law makers and law enforcement officers, of which he is one, who have in their hands the power to continue the American tradition of freedom for the individual.

In the case of the second precinct, the statement of the head of the electoral board to the effect that enough polling places would be provided to handle the voters of Virginia Beach comes too late to have much weight.

Perhaps they will be able to handle all of them, but we maintain that the wishes of the electorate were denied: that once again the rights of the individual were given a figurative, swift kick in the pants; and that, furthermore, the trend toward autocratic, dictatorial, arbitrary rule by the few that make up the machine must be reversed, and reversed at once if we are ever to be able to hold up our heads as decent American citizens.

THE ETHERIDGE CANDIDACY

One of our readers, who unfortunately asks to be nameless, has written us a long letter on the subject of the Etheridge candidacy for State Senator opposing W. Russell Hatchett, the People's Ticket candidate for that high office.

We agree with the gentleman's opinions, and we regret that parts of his letter were unprintable, so that we could not pass it along to our other readers.

Nevertheless, we believe at this time that comment is in order. Mr. Hatchett has had a long record of public service to his community; first in the town, then for two terms as Commissioner of Revenue, a post he resigned to serve as Town Manager of Virginia Beach. In the latter position he served well and fearlessly; he made it his first order of business to close down all of the clubs and nip joints that had been allowed to flourish outside the law—gambling and rowdism of this type was out under his ruling. He attacked the Beach's number one problems—erosion and proper schools with the same vigor.

He broke with the Machine when he could no longer stomach their way of doing things—the ignoring of the flagrant law violations, the thriving crime wave that was resulting. He resigned because he could not, and would not, stand Machine meddling in the Town's affairs.

The choice between Mr. Hatchett and Mr. Etheridge, is elementary. It is the choice between a man and a mouthpiece.

Mr. Etheridge broke with the Machine in the Fall. He said some pretty raw things about them, also unprintable; he went back to them, crying in the public press that after all they were the guys for him; then (as payment?) he announced that he would be a well State Senator, and how about voting for me, huh?

It is Hatchett for us.

The Editor
Virginia Beach News
Dear Sir:

The dismissal by Judge Kellam of the Circuit Court of Princess Anne County of the petition of voters at Virginia Beach that the Virginia Beach voting precinct be divided is to be regretted.

The voters who have cast their vote in the last few elections have had to wait in line for an unreasonable length of time in which to cast their votes and have been put to great inconvenience.

The precinct is steadily growing in size and this condition will gradually become worse.

The purpose of voting places is to give the electorate a reasonable opportunity in which to express their preference and when a person has to stay in line such an unreasonable length of time they have been denied the rights which our Constitution guarantees unto us.

It appears that our public officials who are charged with the duty of seeing that the people have a fair opportunity to cast their vote have been derelict in their duty in not taking steps to see that the Virginia Beach voting precinct was divided long before this and it should not be necessary for individual voters to have to bring before the Court notice of the conditions at the Virginia Beach voting places as it is well known to all who have any real interest in the community.

I hope that the persons who filed the petition, which was dismissed, will immediately file another petition and they should be joined in their effort by the public officials of the Town and County.

Virginia Beach News
Dear Sir:

I have recently been in touch with officers of the League of Women Voters of the United States and of Virginia relative to establishing a League of Women Voters of Virginia Beach and they are very enthusiastic about helping us get started here because the success of democratic government depends on the individual citizen on what he does and doesn't do, on decisions he makes or fails to make, implicitly on exercising the right to vote.

The League of Women Voters alerts the citizen to the fact that politics is his job, shows the citizen how he can be effective in that job, helps the citizen to work for better government. "The purpose of the League of Women Voters of the United States shall be to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government."

Basic principles have guided League work for 36 years. Non-partisanship is carefully guarded. "The League may take action on governmental measures and policies in the public interest. It shall not support or oppose any political party or candidate."

I believe women schooled in non-partisanship, trained to be of aid politically and to assure a public platform before which all candidates might be heard will be of immense benefit to this community. Our vote is a precious heritage which should be cherished and guarded.

I will be happy to hear from any women interested in this idea. Membership is open, and all women citizens are invited to become members. (There are many men associate members.)

Sincerely,

Voice of The People
Virginia Beach News
To Whom It May Concern:

It is indeed discouraging to see the voice of Racial Discrimination continually popping up in this wonderful land of ours.

Last week-end, my wife and I went into one of the hotels at Virginia Beach in an effort to make a reservation for a week in July for our two children, my wife and myself. When she asked for a reservation, she was informed that it would be necessary for her to write in for it. This answer seemed very evasive to me, so I went in and asked the clerk at the desk if the hotel was "restricted," and he informed me that it was.

I was one of five brothers that saw service in World War II. One of the five was killed in Italy. At the present time I can't seem to recall that being called into the service was "restricted." Neither was death on the battlefield "restricted."

I wonder just what the boys now in Korea and also those serving Occupation Duty in Europe the Spring semester.

and other foreign countries feel about Racial Discrimination?

It would seem to me that if the hotels intend to do as they intend to do "restricted," that is those that intend to operate under those conditions, then they should be made to post signs to that effect. At least spare us the embarrassment.

I have been a native of Virginia all my life and although I have heard of such at the Beach many times, this is the first time that I have actually run across it.

If we can't control such things as this in our own land, how can we expect to do so in other lands?

Sincerely,

LEONARD LUBMAN

Mr. Paul W. Ackles, Jr.

Virginia Beach, Virginia

Dear Paul:

As one of the unsuccessful petitioners to the Circuit Court of Princess Anne County to increase to more than one the voting precinct at Virginia Beach, I appeal to you in your capacity of Commonwealth's Attorney, and my counsel as such, to advise me exactly how this plea should be made in order to attain relief. Obviously the present hopelessly inadequate balloting facilities at the Beach amount in effect to disfranchisement for some qualified electors.

So that the many affected may be also informed, it will be appreciated if your reply is through the medium of an open letter to the two local newspapers.

Sincerely yours,

J. WILLCOX DUNN

Navy to Sponsor Housing Project At NAAS Oceana

A housing project consisting of rental dwellings for 90 officers and 194 enlisted men is being planned under the so-called "Title 8 Program," wherein sponsorship of commercial housing enterprises is made by the Navy, in connection with expansion of facilities at NAAS Oceana, which is being developed as a Master Jet Field. These new homes are planned along Belango Road (State Route 633) which will form the southern boundary of the air station, according to Captain J. F. Quilter, Commanding Officer.

This location will be convenient for those serving at the air station since the main gate is planned to be in the general vicinity of the intersection of Belango Road and Court House Road (State Routes 633 and 615). No public quarters are planned for the Oceana Air Station in the near future. Public quarters are dwellings constructed on Navy reservations from appropriated funds and which are assigned to key personnel on duty at the installation. In lieu of rent, they forfeit rental allowances for occupancy in these quarters.

A new commercial housing development, Oceana Gardens, bordering the air station to the north, is in the hands of commercial interests.

OPS Information

General Questions Asked By Merchants Answered

The following questions and answers have been released by the Norfolk Office of Price Stabilization:

Q. Under what OPS regulation does a bakery shop come, if it does not sell any food for consumption on the premises?

A. Such a bakery shop would come under the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation. If it did sell food for consumption on the premises, it then would become an eating establishment and come under the Ceiling Price Regulation 11 for that portion of its operation and under the General Ceiling Price Regulation for the balance of its business.

Q. As a small grocery store, do we have to report to OPS every week on each purchase or just when prices change?

A. Neither. When there is a change in your net cost, you then merely refigure your ceiling prices which you keep at your store (no report is required) for inspection by an OPS representative on request.

Q. As a small grocer, I can't charge as much as the ceiling price allows me because of competition. What can I do?

A. You can charge as little as you want to, since the regulations place no "floor" under prices, but you cannot charge above ceiling prices. The ceiling price is the highest price allowed; the selling price is what you actually charge, which can be considerably less than the maximum price allowed.

Q. I have a small country general store. To what OPS regulation should I conform in handling feed for stock, poultry, etc?

A. You are governed by the General Ceiling Price Regulation and Supplementary Regulation 7. Q. In the restaurant regulation, Ceiling Price, Regulation 11, what does "food cost per dollar sales" mean?

A. "Food cost per dollar sales" means the ratio between the total cost of food and the total sales during the appropriate base period as outlined in the regulation.

Q. Are grocers required to give sales slips or receipts for purchases?

A. Under OPS regulations, if you have customarily given purchasers sales slips or similar evidence of purchases, you must continue to do so. Furthermore, regardless of your previous custom, you must give a sales slip or receipt to any customer who asks for it. This evidence of purchase must show the date, your name and address, the quantity and name of each food item sold, and the price you charged for each.

Q. Section 3 of Ceiling Price Regulation 11 (food establishments) refers to taxes. What taxes are meant?

A. In addition to your selling prices, you may collect the amount of any sales or similar taxes paid by you only if during the base period you collected such taxes separately from your selling price.

Q. I am a merchant. Why haven't I received the list of ceiling prices I am to use?

A. There is no list of ceiling prices as such, since ceiling prices are fixed by the regulations. Each merchant must compile his own ceiling prices, following the regulations which apply to his type of business.

Q. I operate a restaurant and keep separate my records for sales of food and alcoholic beverages. Under Ceiling Price Regulation 11, may I now combine them, if they are not in excess of my food cost for the base period?

A. No. You must continue to keep these records separate.

Q. Are fresh fruits, vegetables, and sugar exempt from OPS regulations?

A. Yes.

Q. I am a jeweler and understand that precious stones and precious jewelry are exempted from OPS regulations.

A. That is correct. Amendment 2 to General Overriding Regulation 5 exempted these, defining a "precious" stone as one for which the cutter, wholesale dealer, or importer sets a price of $25 or more; "precious jewelry" is defined as any article or mounting.

a component part of which is one or more precious stones, when the value of the precious stone or stones exceeds the total value of the other component parts of the finished article. Jewelry made of precious metals is not exempted, unless it contains precious stones of greater value than the other components of the jewelry.

● THE ALARMING RESULTS OF THE FAMOUS SIX MONTHS ROAD TEST RECENTLY CONDUCTED IN MARYLAND, FURNISH IMPARTIAL PROOF OF WHAT IS RUINING YOUR ROADS FROM COAST TO COAST, BORDER TO BORDER!

HERE ARE THE FACTS—YOU BE THE JUDGE

In June, 1950, a group of eastern and midwestern states, the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, and several associations, started tests to determine the damage done to the highways by large, heavily loaded trucks. The State of Maryland set aside a 1.1-mile section of double-lane highway, and divided it into four single-lane stretches of about 1/4-mile each. The Automobile Manufacturers' Association provided the trucks; the Highway Research Board was put in charge. The highway selected was of excellent construction on soil typical of that underlying an extensive portion of the nation's roads. Trucks were loaded to the agreed-upon four different weights, and sent back and forth over the highway, day after day, in what everyone agreed was a fair test.

HERE'S WHAT HAPPENED!

In less than 4 months, traffic on the 1/4-mile lane used by the 44,800-pound tandem-axle loads was stopped because the highway was so extensively damaged. It had developed 3,704 FEET OF CRACKS AND 95.8% OF ITS CONCRETE SLABS WERE DAMAGED. At the end of the six month-test, the lane over which the 32,000-pound tandem-axle load operated, had developed 1,050 FEET OF CRACKS AND 70.4% OF ITS SLABS WERE DAMAGED. During the same period, the 22,400-pound single-axle truck lane had run up a toll of 1,269 FEET OF CRACKS AND 58% OF THE CONCRETE SLABS WERE DAMAGED, while the lane over which the 18,000-pound truckloads moved had 196 FEET OF CRACKS AND 26% OF THE CONCRETE SLABS WERE DAMAGED.

Thus, the scientific Maryland road test produced indisputable evidence that the BIG FREIGHT TRUCKS are causing terrific damage to the nation's roads . . . roads provided for them and paid for by the general taxpayers and the owners of private automobiles and light trucks. The damage to the highways is so extensive that the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads several years ago issued this alarming warning: "By 1955, only 56% of the high type roads will be in usable shape . . . This will be the status despite the reconstruction programmed between now and then . . . To bring all roads up to adequate standards would require the expenditure of 60 BILLION DOLLARS."

It is common knowledge among state and federal highway experts and other public officials that the taxes paid by the BIG TRUCKS for use of the highways is only a very small part of what they should rightfully pay. And this is to say nothing of the huge cost of increased road construction and maintenance made necessary by the extensive damage caused by the BIG TRUCKS.

The only solution to this serious situation is the enactment of laws which will require the BIG TRUCKS to pay their full share for use of the highways, and to pay their full share of the increasing construction and maintenance costs of the highways, over which they operate at a profit. Write to your state and federal legislators and urge them to pass laws which will make the BIG TRUCKS pay their own way—stand on their own feet—otherwise you will continue to provide a roadway for the BIG TRUCKS, which now have a pipe line into your pocketbook.

Navy Department
Asks $21,000,000
More for Oceana

Information has been received that the Navy Department has requested appropriation of funds in the amount of $21,000,000 for further improvements in facilities in the course of development of NAAS Oceana into a Master Jet Field.

It will be remembered that approximately $12,000,000 has previously been appropriated and is now financing extension and improvement of runways, additional parking area for aircraft, new fuel storage, new sewage plant, and additional railroad facilities. As none of these funds provided for new buildings to replace the temporary World War II structures at Oceana, the Navy Department has made a request for funds in the fiscal year 1952. This appropriation is to provide one new hangar, a modern control tower, barracks facilities for approximately 1000 men, 4 new dispensary, new magazines, and attendant roads, utilities and services for these structures which are planned for the presently undeveloped area in the southwest of the air station opposite from the Town of Oceana.

Construction work on dual runways now in progress has been hampered to some extent by wet weather, and it is expected that facilities will be available for return of aircraft squadrons prior to September 15, 1951.
